President Makes Visit To Brazil On His Trip Southward

GREAT RECEPTION IS ACCORDED HIM

First American President To Visit Brazil While Holding Office

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 27.—A slight rain drizzling from low clouds above Rio De Janeiro harbor's famed Sugar Loaf failed today to dampen the unprecedented ovation accorded President Roosevelt on his arrival here enroute to the Pan-American peace conference at Buenos Aires.

To the accompaniment of resounding cheers and a demonstration by school-children that brought a smile of appreciation to his lips, the chief executive entered the bay aboard the cruiser Indianapolis at 9:21 a. m. (Brazil time) and disembarked a few minutes later.

A fleet of Brazilian army and navy planes roared overhead and war-ships flying Brazil's multi-starred pennant boomed out a presidential salute as the Indianapolis steamed into the harbor.

Countless Brazilian and American flags fluttered in the slight breeze. The rails of the Indianapolis and its convoy, the cruiser Chester, were manned in honor to President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, host to Mr. Roosevelt on his brief but momentous visit to this republic. He is the first American chief executive to visit Rio De Janeiro while in office.

Acknowledges Ovation.

The president stood upon the communication deck of his vessel as the cruiser was eased into dock, acknowledging the ovation accorded him with waves of his hand.

As the time came to disembark,

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Weather conditions over Thanksgiving period weren't any too good for auto traffic. The turn in the weather on Wednesday evening made the highways quite slippery, and ashing crews had to get busy in the city and county. Before the roads were ashed, drivers were having a lot of difficulty, especially out along the Perry highway, where scores of cars were tied up for a time. On Thursday evening the fall of snow again made traffic conditions hazardous. Numerous minor accidents were occasioned over the holiday period, result of the road and weather conditions.

* * *

A considerable number of football fans evidently had the impression that the Army-Navy game was one of the big attractions for Thanksgiving Day. At least a large number of telephone calls reached The News during the afternoon, inquiring about the Army-Navy score. The game is to be played Saturday.

* * *

Apparently there was no cessation of overland delivery of new autos and trucks over the holiday period. A considerable number of the delivery consignments went through the city yesterday.

Plenty of motorists have learned what chains are for, mostly to their sorrow, during the past few days. Wednesday afternoon's snow made

Take Precautions To Guard Mrs. Simpson

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—British authorities took precautions today to protect Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson from annoyance after she had received a threatening letter, believed the work of a crank, in a batch of "fan mail."

Mrs. Simpson was given extra protection only after a heavy increase in her mail from England, the United States, and the British dominions and colonies. Most of the writers wished her the best of luck in her personal life.

The British press reported the incident of the threatening letter in a guarded manner.

The London Daily Mirror carried the story on the bottom of the first page under a two-column headline which read:

"Guard for society woman—reports in U. S."

Following this the paper stated: "American newspapers last night reported that a former United States society woman now living in London, Mrs. Simpson, has had her life threatened.

Special guards have been engaged for her, it is stated, and detectives have been assigned to open all postal packages she receives.

Severed Siamese Twin Is Showing Recovery Signs

Doctors Encouraged by Recovery Shown By Simplicio Godino After Operation

WILL HAVE TO LEARN TO WALK

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Simplicio Godino, surviving Siamese twin, made further progress today in his battle for life as a normal man.

Recuperating at the hospital where skillful surgery parted him from his dead brother, Lucio, the little 28-year-old Filipino is still unable, however, to undertake major activities which will now be possible for him but have been denied him during the time he was one-half of a double man.

Can Lie On Back

But he is able, for the first time, to lie on his back, which was impossible when he was bound to his brother at the base of their spines.

He can toss in his sleep, and has already done so.

He can sleep, for the first time, on his left side, whereas he used to sleep on his right side, back to back with his brother.

It will be some days before doctors permit him to get out of bed—and then he must, for the first time, learn to do it alone.

To Walk Forward

He used to be "second man" in his enforced partnership with Lucio, and had to slide out of bed after his brother. And he usually walked backward, as Lucio walked forward. Now he will have to learn, almost like a baby, how to walk forward—alone.

He will have to learn how to stand on his own feet, developing a new sense of balance, for heretofore everything had been a question of team work with Lucio.

After examining Simplicio today, his physicians were confident that he would make an excellent recovery, and will become a normal, healthy individual.

Doctors Encouraged

His heart is beating less hurriedly, his breathing was less labored, and his post-operative fever was abating.

"His condition is good," said the latest bulletin issued from the New York academy of medicine. "His pulse, temperature and respiration are improving. He continues to make good progress."

As he remained in normal health throughout his brother's illness, physicians felt today that Simplicio had probably not been affected by

Four Inches Of Snow Falls Here

Bulk Of Snow Which Fell Over Thanksgiving Melts, Due To Warmth Of Ground

Four inches of snow fell here between Wednesday afternoon and this morning, according to the measurements of the U. S. Weather Observer, but due to the warmth of the ground, most of it melted, only about an inch of the beautiful covering the ground in the city this morning.

There were several heavy snow flurries, one Wednesday evening between 4:30 and 5:30, and another last evening about 9 o'clock.

Streets and highways were treacherous for a time, but the snow was soon worn off by passing machines.

Woman Dies Of Auto Injuries

Miss Ruth Pettit, Almira Home Resident, Fatally Injured Wednesday Afternoon

DIES IN HOSPITAL TWO HOURS LATER

Miss Ruth Pettit, aged 85 years, a resident of the Almira Home, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6:35 Wednesday evening of injuries sustained when she was struck while crossing Washington street at the center of the Diamond, by an automobile driven by Ralph Friedberg, of 518 Greer Building at 4:15 Wednesday afternoon. Miss Pettit sustained a concussion of the brain and other injuries.

In company with Miss Ida Paisley, another resident at the home, Miss Pettit had gone to the First M. E. church to quilt. The two women were on their way home, and were in the act of crossing the Diamond to get on an East Side car, when the car driven by Friedberg, which was owned by Ben Zeisel, was turning west on Washington street, off Jefferson, is said to have struck them.

Friedberg told Coroner Orville Potter that he is employed by Ben Brown, at 10 West Washington street. He was waiting on Jefferson street for the traffic light to change and as soon as it turned green, pulled around the corner to park near Brown's store. He said he was unaware that he had struck anyone, until he happened to look in his rear vision mirror to see if any cars were following him, before he pulled into the curb. He said he saw a Five more days to go—and $18,163 to raise—was the ringing challenge that spurred New Castle's Community Chest army on to its victory goal of $60,370 today.

Already the volunteer workers have subscribed $42,207 to the fund which in 1937 will keep functioning the normal operations of eight of the community's welfare and character-building agencies.

They reported that sum when they rallied at the First Christian church for a fourth report session Tuesday night. It was there, after the campaigners had roared their

Mother And Her Daughter Perish In Raging Flames

Mrs. Ellen Grasty, 37, And Daughter Die When Flames Sweep Home Near Connellsville

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 27.—A mother and her 15-year-old daughter were trapped and burned to death early today when flames apparently springing from an overheated stove destroyed their three-room cottage at Trotter, about a mile and a half from here.

The victims were Mrs. Ellen Grasty, 37, and her daughter, Ardella.

The husband and father, Philip, 40, was found overcome and suffering from exposure on the kitchen porch.

Richard Thompson, a friend, who accompanied the Grastys home from their lunch stand last night, told firemen they sat around the kitchen coal stove "warming up" for a while. It was believed Grasty dozed off in a chair at the stove while his wife and daughter went to bed.

The only entrance to the house was through the kitchen where the flames broke out, cutting off the escape of the two victims who were in a bedroom beyond, firemen said.

Sir Basil Zaharoff Is Taken By Death

"Mystery Man" Of Europe Dies At Hotel In Monte Carlo Today

(International News Service)

MONTE CARLO, Nov. 27.—Sir Basil Zaharoff, the "mystery man" of Europe, reputed maker of wars, kings and dynasties, died at the Hotel De Paris here today.

Despite his advanced age of 36, Sir Basil's death came as a surprise.

He arrived in Monte Carlo ten days ago for his annual visit. He went out for a drive yesterday and lunched in a public restaurant.

To all who saw him, he appeared in excellent health. He died in bed, however, presumably, from a heart attack, at 9 o'clock this morning.

With Zaharoff when he died was his daughter, the Comtesse De Bourbon. Funeral plans were not announced immediately.

WIFE AND FIGHTER WERE QUARRELING

(International News Service)

LONG BEACH, Cal., Nov. 27.—William ("Billy") Papke, former world's middleweight boxing champion, lay dead today after fatally shooting his estranged wife, Mrs. Edna Eloise Papke, 46, and then turning the smoking gun on himself.

They got into an argument," said Mrs. J. S. Cabanne, a witness of the tragedy, which occurred at Papke's Balboa Island home last night, "and suddenly Mr. Papke pulled out a gun and shot her through the heart. Then he shot himself through the chest three times."

Papke was trying to effect a reconciliation before the tragedy, according to authorities who said no inquest would be held as it appeared to be a clear case of murder and suicide.

Another Severe Test For Diplomatic Relations Between Germany-Russia

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Nov. 27.—Diplomatic relations between Germany and Soviet Russia, severely strained on two occasions during the past few weeks, were subjected to another severe test today as a paean of hate against the Nazis was sung at the all-union congress of Soviets.

Speaker after speaker lashed out at Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his aides, striking first at the newly-signed accord between Germany and Japan against communism and then attacking Hitler's recent observations on how possession of the Ukraine would enrich the Reich.

"Our answer to the Nazi dream of invading the Ukraine can be summed up in an old Ukrainian saying: 'A pig can never look at the sky'; so Adolf Hitler cannot see our Ukrainian garden," declared N. N. Lubchenko, chief of the Ukrainian delegation.

Keen Speculation

Whether Germany would protect this uncomplimentary reference to Der Fuehrer was a matter for keen speculation. In addition to the German-Japanese pact, relations with Russia have been strained by the arrest, trial and conviction of a number of German nationals at Novosibirsk on sabotage charges.

As a result of these trials, and

Pittsburgh Police Fail To Link Quartet With Volant Robbery

GANG CONFESSES TO ANOTHER HOLDUP

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—Police failed today to link four Chicago mobsters who in an unprecedented Thanksgiving Day arraignment confessed the holdup of St. Adelbert's parish house with the recent daring $5,000 holdup of the First National Bank at Volant.

Viewing the suspects under the bright glare of the Central police station lights at a "standup," P. M. Cox, cashier of the bank, decided they were not the four bandits who raided his institution.

Seized in Cleveland, O., the bandits were paraded at a "standup" in an attempt to link them with recent robberies in this section.

Cox was accompanied to Pittsburgh by State Policeman R. V. Miers, of New Castle. Mrs. Mabel Simpson Brown, the assistant cashier, who was also one of the bandits' victims, did not view the suspects.

Union Services Of Thanksgiving Attract Crowd

Music By Combined Choirs Adds To Beauty Of Various Union Worship Services

Just as the Pilgrims gathered over 300 years ago to thank Providence for the good harvest, so crowds of New Castle and Lawrence county people wended their ways to church Wednesday night and Thursday morning in thanksgiving for the mercies of the closing year.

Devout thanksgiving services were conducted in all parts of the city and county and were attended by hundreds of grateful residents, young and old. In New Castle there were five union services—at the First M. E., Second U. P., Italian M. E., Nazarene and Mahoning M. E. churches.

The sermons were delivered by Rev. Merrill Cadwell, youthful minister at the First Christian church, who has been serving as assistant pastor ever since the illness of Dr. G. S. Bennett; Rev. Harold A. McCurdy, recently come from Warren, Pa., to take over Epworth M. E. pastorate; Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, of the Central Christian church, and Rev. J. L. Landrey, of the Wesleyan Methodist church, both of whom are among the newer preachers in New Castle, and Rev. D. C. Schnebly, Mahoningtown Presbyterian pastor, one of the senior members of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Music by combined choirs added to the beauty of the services.

Thousands Are In Flight From City Of Madrid

Last Of American Contingent Is Departing From Shell-Torn City

Rebels And Loyalists Battle For Control Of University City In Capital

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, Nov. 27.—While rebels and Loyalists battled for control of the university city in Madrid proper, the United States cruiser Raleigh waited at Valencia today for the last contingent of Americans fleeing from shell-torn Madrid to board the cruiser for transportation to Nice in France.

At the same time, while 200,000 panic-stricken men, women and children poured from the beleaguered capital to seek safety elsewhere, the leftist government claimed new gains against the attacking insurgents.

An official communique said the government troops "continued to repulse violent nationalist attacks," and added:

"The nationalists suffered heavy losses when they were obliged to withdraw from the positions they occupied in University City."

Americans Leave

Altogether 72 Americans were either already in Valencia or on their way here. One contingent was delayed by motor trouble and sent word they would not be able to arrive until later today.

When they arrive, the Americans, with the exception of the United States embassy staff, will board the Raleigh, which officials hope will be able to sail for Nice today. The delayed Americans were understood to have spent the night in Albacete.

Among the refugees was Vincent Patriarca, American born New Yorker of Italian lineage. He was the rebel pilot of a plane shot down on the Santa Olalla front by loyalist aircraft a month ago. Others included Col. Sosthenes Behn, president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company in Madrid,

LABOR CONVENTION ENDING

Expect Green To Be Re-Elected

A. F. Of L. Convention At Tampa Will Be Concluded This Evening

MONTREAL MAY BE NEXT MEETING SITE

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 27.—Completion of a 1937 legislative program, election of officers and selection of next year's convention city, faced the American Federation of Labor today as the final actions of its 1936 annual meeting.

Torn by dissension and with more than a third of its 3,400,000 membership stripped away in continued suspension of the ten rebel unions of John L. Lewis committee for industrial organization, the 1936 labor congress will end tonight.

Council To Meet

Tomorrow, and perhaps Sunday, too, the new executive council will hold its first meetings, at which an invitation will be framed inviting the Lewis forces to abandon their defiant drive to organize the steel industry along mass or industrial lines, and come back into the A. F. of L. fold.

There were a dozen unauthenticated rumors as to the form this invitation would take, but veteran leaders counselled against "wild speculation." They added, significantly that peace seemed as far away as ever.

Denver, Philadelphia, and Montreal were the three cities seeking the A. F. of L. 1937 convention, with delegates apparently favoring Montreal.

Beyond doubt, President Green, who took over Federation leadership when the veteran Sam Gompers died, will be reelected to the presidency. However, this election may provide mild fireworks because some of the Lewis sympathizers here planned to ask Green some embarrassing questions.

ROOSEVELT GIVEN BIG WELCOME AT RIO DE JANEIRO

2,000 school-children assembled at the pier, each clutching an American flag in his or her hand, sang "The Star Spangled Banner".

The president, outspokenly regretful that his South American visit compelled him to miss Thanksgiving at his beloved Warm Springs Foundation for the first time since the institution was established, was profoundly touched by the children's demonstration.

At the dock, Mr. Roosevelt entered an automobile with President Vargas. They drove slowly through jammed streets to his temporary residence (the magnificent Guinle palace on the Praia De Botafogo).

All along the Rio Branco fronting the harbor, massed crowds cheered him. There was hardly a window which did not boast the Stars and Stripes and hardly a place of vantage that was not garlanded with flowers in his honor.

Municipal as well as governmental officials greeted the president on his debarkation, but an informality was observed by all concerned that increased the popular enthusiasm.

After a brief rest, Mr. Roosevelt will lunch as guest of the government in the palatial colonial house in the forest of Tijuca.

NO LET-UP IN CHEST DRIVE

determination to fight on, the campaign was continued to Wednesday evening December 2.

First Returns Monday.

On Monday, November 30, in the First Christian church at 12:15 p. m., the teams will assemble again for a preliminary check-up on their resolicitation drive and will know what success is theirs as they determinedly battle for the entire $60,370.

Out on the streets, in offices and in homes, the tireless solicitors carried on their prospect visitation with the clear declarations of their leaders resounding in their ears:

"We're at the crossroads—to the left is failure—and to the right, victory. We're going to win!" said General Chairman David S. Pyle.

"We're not going to let Dave Pyle down!" shouted one of the plant representatives among the solicitors.

"It Will Be Won!"

"It can be won. It will be won," declared Louis B. Round, prominent Community Chest official.

"It would be one of the worst advertisements New Castle could get, if it went out that this drive failed. It would be worse than that to let it fail with Dave Pyle at the head!" Fred L. Rentz told the workers.

And a lot of other ringing, inspiring words resounded time and time again as the individual callers for the chest made their rounds.

Community Chest headquarters in the Lawrence Savings & Trust building reported that workers were visiting the office for additional cards. At headquarters this morning the chest high command met to discuss the situation—the situation they and their colleagues hope will clear itself possibly Monday when the first "score board" news will be known.

The drive opened with the "Towne party" of November 24.

Hit-Run Motorist Is Being Hunted

KITTANNING, Pa., Nov. 27.—Police worked on a hit-run theory today in an attempt to solve the mystery surrounding the death of James Roy Neal, 44, World War veteran and father of six children, whose body was found a short distance from his home near Daytona, Pa., late Wednesday night.

His partial blindness may have contributed to his death, police said. Neal died from a severe blow on the head which, police believe, induced a hemorrhage at the base of the brain.

Miss Paisley told Coroner Potter that she remembers very little about how the accident occurred. She says she was either knocked down or fell down, and that she did not see the automobile that had caused the accident, until she looked up and saw Miss Pettit under the car.

Miss Pettit had resided in the Almira home for about eight years. She was born where Ellwood City now is located, daughter of Nathaniel and Barbara Grief Pettit, and passed all her lifetime in Lawrence county. She was a member of the First M. Foltz, engaged in banking here for many years. Other members of the family were industrialists. Near Rose Point there still stands the remains of the old Willeroy furnace, a Foltz industry named for Will and Roy Foltz. Back of that generation is a history of pioneering after the Revolution. Mrs. Brown was the grand-niece of General Sullivan of Revolutionary fame.

She was married to William M. Brown, a leader in industry and in politics in the county and state. He served as lieutenant-governor of Pennsylvania from January 20, 1903 to January 15, 1907. In November, 1914, he was elected to serve the 24th congressional district of Pennsylvania but died on January 31, 1915, before he had been sworn in.

For many years Mrs. Brown took little part in public activities, covering a myriad of charities in a cloak of anonymity. Only those closest to her knew her many charities and the assistance she gave freely to civic ventures was done without any fanfare of publicity.

She is survived by a daughter and a son, Mrs. De Grimm Renfrew and Arthur M. Brown, both of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon, November 28, from the Brown family home on East street at 2 o'clock. The interment in Graceland cemetery will be private.

Bear Hunt Proves Expensive One To Hunter From City

Finds Bear Is Less Than Year Old After Bringing It Down

An ambition which became a reality after 13 years of big game hunting, proved a financial setback to Andrew Cangey of 203 South Liberty street.

While on a three day hunting expedition in the wilds of Seigle, Jefferson county, Mr. Cangey, who was accompanied by Peter Rotunno and Peter Russo, both Liberty street residents, sighted a bear approximately 100 or more yards away. Loading his gun, Cangey aimed, shot and brought down the coveted hunting prize.

Arriving at the spot where the bear dropped, the New Castle hunters were undecided as to whether or not the animal was legal prey. Cangey, a true sportsman, immediately got in touch with a game warden. The bear was found to be less than a year old. Cangey was fined $50.

From where I was standing, the bear looked extremely large," Cangey stated this morning.

While driving along the New Castle-Harlansburg road yesterday Attorney Harvey E. Martin saw about a dozen starlings electrocuted in a peculiar manner. When the starlings on one wire reached over and touched their bills to the birds on another wire, it made a "short" and the starlings dropped dead to the ground. Attorney Martin does not know exactly how many were killed in this way, but during the short time it took him to pass them at least a dozen dropped.

LEGION AUXILIARY HONORS AGED WOMEN

The Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343 of the American Legion Auxiliary held a special Thanksgiving program at the Almira Home on Wednesday evening.

At 8:30 o'clock, the program opened with greetings extended by their Americanism chairman, Mrs. E. J. Suber, who later introduced president, Mrs. John Wilson. She gave an inspiring short talk on "The First Thanksgiving," with all joining in the singing of "America" afterwards. The preamble to the constitution of the Legion Auxiliary was read at this time.

Following, a patriotic toe dance was contributed by Vivian Lemley and a reading, "Thanks For Everything" was given by Lillian Dietterele. A song and dance was given by Barbara June Wilson in a quaint old fashioned costume. A Dutch dance by Jackie and Jacqueline Mitchell was the next feature, and Dorothy Barnsley ensued with a reading "The New Minister Called."

Greetings from the Perry S. Gaston Post were extended by John Wilson. In conclusion, the assemblage sang "America The Beautiful". Mrs. James Cooper gave the benedition afterwards.

The elderly women of the Home, were delighted with the presentations and they were overjoyed when novel dolls dressed in frilly frocks and candy treats were distributed, as additional mementos of the occasion.

LYDIA FARMER AND CARLTON BARNES WED

In a quiet but impressive ceremony Tuesday afternoon Miss Lydia Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Farmer, of 227 Laurel avenue, became the bride of Carlton Barnes, son of Mrs. George Johns, of Boyles avenue, at the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. Vernon Burchart, pastor of the Christian church of Hubbard, schoolmate and close friend of the bridegroom, officiated in the presence of the immediate families and the group of friends. The wedding was a quiet one due to the absence of the bride's mother who is in California where her sister is quite ill. Mrs. Johns, mother of the groom, was so unfortunate as to have a serious fall the day before the marriage and is confined to her home.

The bride was lovely in a gown of coronation blue with silver accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of tea roses and baby 'mums. Miss Margaret Mines, her only attendant, was attired in brown with gold accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of roses and 'mums. Delbert Mines, of Warren, O., served his cousin as best man.

Following the ceremony a period of congratulations was enjoyed and then the guests were ushered into the beautifully decorated dining room where a delicious dinner was served. Centering the table was a lovely wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Early in the evening the happy couple departed on a trip, the destination being unrevealed. Upon their return they will take up residence in their newly furnished apartment located on the Darlington road near New Galilee, where Mr. Barnes is employed.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes attended New Castle high school. Since Mrs. Barnes' graduation with the class of '32 she was employed until recently by the state at the South Mill street office.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING—SHOP EARLY!

CALENDARS and almanacs to the contrary, fall to all intents and purposes ended Thursday and winter began Friday. The fact that there are still 21 days of the former left on the calendar is merely a technical consideration. When the referee's final gun in the last football game of the day was fired in Thursday's twilight, not only was a football season ended but a season of the year as well.

It is rather sad to bid the fall adieu. It is a time of year largely admired and usually preferred either to winter or summer. December and the Christmas season are acceptable enough, but January, February and March most people could do without. Fortunately that blustery triumvirate of months is still thirty days away, and we may settle down to contemplation of the impending Christmas season. Actually, it is already so close upon us there is not much time for contemplation. We will be in the thick of it before we know it.

The prospects of a Merry Christmas this year are reputed to be excellent. Times are better and things are looking up. Nothing could be more cheering, and it suggests that one of the ways to make these assertions ring true and at the same time escape a lot of last-minute worry is to obey that old admonition about doing the Christmas shopping early. We don't expect many to do so, but persons who are caught in the December 24 rush need not complain that we didn't tip them off about it.

HOT DOG VINDICATION

No less an authority than George Rector, retired chef and manager of the long famous but now vanished Rector's restaurant in New York, has spoken words of praise for the "hot dog." It annoys him to have people make fun of it and particularly to hear them question its ingredients.

Hot dogs, in his opinion, "are better food than many of the fancy things all of us eat." Figures show that more pounds of hot dogs are consumed in this country regularly than of any other meat, which seems to indicate that if they were harmful practically the whole American nation would be ill.

Perhaps these pronouncements should be taken with salt, or at least with a little salt water taffy. They were spoken at Atlantic City where the hot dog is a major commodity. Still and all, the hot dog really is worth defending. It's so convenient to serve and to eat that it is a natural favorite with a people given to eating on the run and at all sorts of outdoor affairs from a ball game to a picnic.

FREE COLLEGE EDUCATION

Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, of the University of Chicago, is one of the distinguished educators of America, also a young man of vision and enthusiasm. Yet his assurance, expressed at a recent convention of teachers in Atlantic City, that boys and girls will find it possible in the not distant future to obtain college educations up to and including the sophomore year in his or her home town at public expense, seems at best a remote possibility.

Before anything of this sort can happen, American education must first recover the losses suffered during the devastating years of the depression. These loses are not at the present time recognized in their true light by citizens generally, though they are known well to the more thoughtful and discerning of educators.

It is rather futile to talk of college educations for youth at public expense when some teachers are still underpaid and classes are being conducted in ancient buildings falling into decay.

In many ways, primary and secondary education throughout the United States has suffered devastating effects from the depression. Years will pass before normal standards have been reestablished. Not until then will it be possible even to consider the establishment of a free system of higher education.

THE AIRPLANE FRONTIER

Recommendation by the Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors that $500,000 be expended in building a seaplane basin at Midway Island may be considered practical recognition of the success of the trans-Pacific air line established by private interests. Rivers and Harbors appropriations have been used for years to make the older forms of transportation safer and easier and large sums have been expended in building and maintaining the government's share of overland airways.

Though the little Pacific isle was of no importance before the trans-Pacific air route was charted, it is now an essential link in commercial air transportation in the Pacific and may some day be adopted for naval plane uses though the Navy, which has jurisdiction over Midway, is said to have no part in the plan for the small seaplane basin recommended.

If the project is given place in the next Rivers and Harbors appropriation bill, the sum allocated to Midway improvement will be the first money spent directly by the government for such improvement of the trans-Pacific route station. Planes flying from Hawaii westward stop first at Midway, then at Wake and Guam.

ROMANCE IN THE MAKING

Everyone must realize that, in the ordinary course of events, romance was bound to come into the lives of the Dionne quintuplets. But it was hardly to be expected that it would develop before they were out of their nursery. That they are five remarkable little girls in many ways is revealed by their physician, Dr. Dafoe, who naively relates that already one of them has a suitor.

And it is no ordinary young man who is seeking the hand of one of the quintet. He is a lad of twelve from the State of Washington, who rather solemnly declares that he is going to be President of the United States some day, and in preparation for that event he wants the Canadian infant to look forward to sharing the White House with him. He offered his heart, hand and future after seeing the flirtatious Annette in a motion picture. Such an international alliance would supplement other hands-across-the-sea romances that may now be flowering.

Dr. Dafoe declares that the little girls realize that they are not ordinary children. This budding romance also shows that the speed of this generation is going to be outdone by the one in the making.

A dictator need not be a great man. All he needs is about 30,000,000 people who say "Yes sir."

THAT WE have millions unemployed, millions worried, millions exploited by the more cunning, and more millions exploited by politicians, public gamblers and dealers in profitable superstitions is our own national fault.

There is comfort in the knowledge that we shall outgrow it.

Our real trouble is IGNORANCE. Nobody realizes how dense it is. Public schools fight against it, but slowly.

Under our system of education children are forced to think and learn a little when they want to do neither, and stop thinking and learning, as adults, when learning really should begin.

THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY of the American patent system is celebrated by an airplane broadcast over Washington, announcing names of great inventors, Bell, telephone; Edison, electric light and phonograph; Fulton, successful steamboat; Goodyear, vulcanizing process for rubber; Charles Martin Hall, aluminum; Howe, sewing machine; McCormick, reaper; Mergenthaler, linotype; Morse, telegraph; Westinghouse, airbrakes; Wilbur Wright, airplane; Eli Whitney, cotton gin.

Ours seems to be an inventive race, due to the mixture of races; too bad the government does not take more interest in inventions, particularly in Wilbur Wright's invention, the airplane.

STALIN'S GOVERNMENT sentenced to death eight Russians and one German engineer; all had confessed to sabotage in a Siberian coal mine causing the deaths of Soviet workers.

Germany, through her government and newspapers, rages. Russia is accused of forcing confessions of guilt by "solitary confinement in dark dungeons, standing before red hot ovens and week-long, constant questioning."

It is pointed out that one Russian engineer, Peschachonoff, who confessed to his guilt on this occasion, had done so at a previous murder trial only to be mysteriously released that he might confess again. If charges are true, he has been used as a goat is used in Chicago stockyards, to lead in sheep that are to have their throats cut.

IF YOU DON'T LIKE PEOPLE—

SOME women don't like women.
Some women don't like men.
Some men don't like women.
Some men don't like men.

And some men and women don't like the human race at all.

I think the ones who don't like their own human race are the most unfortunate of all.

Because if you don't like people, where are you?

You can like books, postage stamps, painting, music, but all these are made by people for people.

You can like trees, flowers, lonely hiking, money-making, mathematics, astronomy, hunting, aviation but if you can't share any of your enthusiasm with other human beings who like the same things what is life for you finally, but loneliness and boredom?

And there are some human beings who think that people are a miserable, disgusting failure who should be wiped from the face of the earth, root and stock and branch.

You may have felt that way occasionally. Nearly everybody has.... But to dislike people all the time is to be doomed to misery and despair. It is to know a living death.

We make many vain and perilous searches on this earth. Sometimes we find what we seek and sometimes we fail. Only one human expedition is unfailingly worthwhile and that is the search for the LIKEABLENESS in every human being we know. Sometimes that quality is plain to be seen, sometimes it is buried deep. It is always there. If you don't like people, you must hate yourself—and that's tragedy!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A SOLE SURVIVOR.

There are some New Castle people who will remember Walter Brookins, who was a friend of the late George Patterson. I remember he was a guest of Mr. Patterson back in 1918.

Mr. Brookins was the first student of aviation under the Wright Brothers. He was the first man that the Wrights taught to fly and I remember when I met him in 1915, he showed me a cigarette case on which were engraved five names, his being one of them. He called my attention to the fact that the other four had lost their lives in airplane accidents and he said at

That law that prohibits a lawyer from going on the bond of a client is a good one for the lawyers and it looks as if the lawyers might have had something to do with it's passage. We can see how nice it is not to have to go on bonds just to get business that might not be so much good in the end.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I have been invited to a tea which will take place at the home of the hostess. Please tell me what I should wear. Should I remove my hat and gloves there? I know that at a tea dance in a hotel a woman should wear a hat but wonder if a tea at home may be different.

D. F.

Answer—Wear a simple afternoon dress and a coat, or a coat suit, a hat and gloves. Although the hostess should wear no hat, the guests should keep their hats on. If there is a dressing room provided for the purpose, go there after you greet your hostess and if you wish to fix your hair remove your hat, but put it on again before returning to the drawing room. If you wear a suit keep your jacket on.

Dear Miss Markel—Please give me some suggestions for a spelling bee for a young children's party.

MOTHER X.

Answer—On long cards or slips of paper write a list of 25 misspelled words, the same words on each slip. Distribute them so that each child receives one slip with instructions to correct the spelling in a quarter hour or given time, depending on the number of words. Then dictate the correct spelling, each child correcting his slip. Give first, second and consolation prizes to those with the best, second best and worst averages.

Good Men Leave Federal Service.
Politicians Are Regaining Office.
Great Britain Becoming Aroused.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

FOR SOME reason, there appears to be rejoicing among many persons when the government loses a good man. The loss accrues to the people more than to anyone else.

Good men are leaving the government now. They may be attacked by various interests while in their government jobs, but the very interests that attack them may be the first to snatch them up once they forsake the government.

(This is not intended particularly to apply to Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, whose going will make life easier for the administration, his superiors and himself.)

The Roosevelt administration made a serious effort in the beginning to obtain thinkers and doers, instead of "hot air" politicians. "Thinkers and doers" are slipping away. Eventually, merely the politicians may remain.

* * *

IN PRIVATE BUSINESS, TOO

Large corporations, also, have similar difficulties. Old ideas always hesitate to give way to the new. Men of sound learning usually are timid persons, often are not doers, either—in fact, gets on other men's nerves.

Yet, if they could be tolerated, they might solve many of our difficulties by providing thought for the doers.

* * *

BUREAUCRACY

There is a cry in private business, too, that some men who have advanced ideas are "too radical".

The timid will wilt away under that blasting cry. Their ideas may be lost forever.

The less timid may fight their way through. Yet their ideas, though expressed in a more fighting spirit, may not be as trenchant or as vital to the common good as those which have been blasted away.

Every corporation as well as the government has the same problem.

Men exclaim, "It is the survival of the fittest." But is it?

In a strongly bureaucratic organization, the weakest survive, protected by bureaucracy and tradition. That is doubly true of government departments susceptible to political pressure within and political opposition without.

It is, indeed, no sign of rejoicing when an independent, honest-thinking student departs. If that occurs too many times in a private company, it goes bankrupt. Government has a different sort of bankruptcy—a retrogression, a reaction; no assets, all liabilities. The public loses all, gains nothing.

WARLIKE BRITAIN

We wrote yesterday that those who twisted the Lion's tail some day would twist it too often.

Great Britain is preparing a tremendous roar.

Read this in the London Times. ". . . . British public opinion will not derive much comfort from the thought that General Franco will inevitably have to rely upon the sword to maintain the peace at least for a considerable period (if he wins) any more than it can from Signor Mussolini's offer to Europe of an olive branch sprouting from a 'forest of eight million bayonets'.

"With the continent in this state of mind there is assuredly no choice before Great Britain but to arm fully and to arm swiftly. That is an absolute necessity for the sake of insuring safety from attack and of averting war from western Europe. Other countries have too long drawn a totally false impression from the British love of peace and readiness to disarm. The impression that we love peace at any price needs to be dispelled. On the other hand it is coming to be accepted at last that our warlike obligations should be limited and defined. It should not be supposed, for instance, that this country is going to be drawn into a war of doctrines, however and whenever it were to break out. But any act of aggression against any part of the British Empire or its communications, or in the neighboring parts of western Europe, will always be met by Great Britain with the full force of her armed resources, and elsewhere by participation in such common action as the circumstances of the occasion may dictate."

MY WEAKNESS

The trouble with me isn't that I am mean,
Says Nellie with one of her sorrowful looks.
But my most extravagant habit has been
A fondness for books!

I don't go for liquor, and gambling I shun
I don't chum with drunkards or men that are crooks.
But still through my fingers the money will run.
My weakness is books!

All down through the years I have wallowed in debt!
When we might have nurses and servants and cooks
I've been frittering money away on a set
Of somebody's books.

What was Browning to me was to her a new gown.
Her bonnets have wound up in bindings in nooks;
She'd have been no worse off had I swallowed it down
What I squandered for books.

All men have their failings the women agree.
In some form temptation the best of them hooks,
And my form of extravagance happens to be
A passion for books.

Today's Yesterdays—Nov. 27, 1247—The date fixed as the death of the legendary Earl of Huntington, alias Robin Hood.

Story tellers wove the tale that he was murdered in his 87th year by a treacherous female relative who, under pretense of bleeding him for a cure, opened his veins and left him to die. Robin Hood, with the last of his waning strength, blew a mighty blast upon the hunting horn he always carried, summoned the faithful six-foot Little John to his side, and commanded his lieutenant to place a bow in his hands. With this he weakly shot an arrow through the window and made this last request: "Where that arrow is taken up, let by grave digged be."

The grave thus supposedly chosen is pointed out today near Huddlesfield, Yorkshire, England.

Nov. 27, 1668—Henri Francois d'Aguesseau was born in Paris, 49 years before he became chancellor of France, a position he held for 18 years. He is memorable today because, finding that his wife always kept him waiting a quarter of an hour after the dinner bell had rung, he devoted this 15 minutes a day to writing a book on jurisprudence. In the course of time he thus produced a work in four quarto volumes. That became a classic.

Nov. 27, 1746—Robert R. Livingston was born in New York City. To repeat our squib of last year: he was one of the five men to draft the Declaration of Independence; he (as chancellor of New York) gave George Washington the presidential oath of office; he was Napoleon's favorite among all the envoys at French court and for that reason was enabled to get advantageous terms in the purchase of the Louisiana purchase; he was the co-inventor of Robert Fulton's steamboat, the man who introduced large scale scientific farming into America, and founder of the American Academy of Fine Arts. Yet he is not in America's "Hall of Fame," while such distinctly second and third-raters as William Ellery Channing, John Greenleaf Whittier, Elias Howe, Charlotte Cushman and Edwin Booth are. Such is fame.

Nov. 27 in State Histories: 1817—The Seminole War began with an attack by U. S. soldiers on a tribal village near the Florida-Georgia line. . . 1842—Notre Dame University was founded at South Bend, Ind. . . . 1868—Brig. Gen. George A. Custer's command defeated Arapahoe and Cheyenne Amerindians in a battle on the Washita River, Ark.

It's True—You're wrong if you believe that rain or snow never fall from a clear sky. They sometimes do, while sun or moon shine brightly and no stars are visible.

And you're wrong if you think rain always falls vertically. It also descends obliquely.

Incidentally, 16,000,000 tons of water fall from the sky, every second of the day and night throughout the year, but five-eighths of it falls upon oceans where it isn't needed or won't do any damage.

Tomb Of First Suffragette Has Been Excavated

Returned American Tells Something About Excavations In Egypt

PORTLAND, Ore.—The tomb of Queen Hat-Shep-Sut, the world's first known advocate of woman's rights, is being investigated in Egypt by the Metropolitan Museum of Art according to Lindsley Foote Hall.

Hall is a former Portland resident who returned here, accompanied by his wife, for a visit with relatives before returning to his Egyptian digging grounds in the necropolis of ancient Egypt's rulers.

Hat-Shep-Sut differed from her later day sisters in that she did not ask for her rights—she seized the throne of Egypt from her brother in approximately 1500 B. C. and proceeded to give the Nile kingdom a sensible equitable rule.

Little is known about the ancient queen, however, because every stone in the temple where her name appeared was destroyed by a younger brother after Hat-Shep-Sut's death. Hall said the younger brother's actions constitute one of the first known instances of male pique. It also ruined many facades of the temple.

Hall termed the discovery of the tomb of Sen-Mut the architect who designed the queen's temple, as one of the expedition's most important finds during the last investigation.

Sen-Mut was a member of the lower classes who elevated himself to the nobility by sheer force of power and ability Hall related. The royal architect dug himself a tomb beneath the temple he constructed for his queen, and this tomb was discovered by Hall's expedition.

Hall said that the Metropolitan museum has been excavating in the concessions near Luxor for the past thirty years An arrangement with the Egyptian government allows the museum and the government to divide all relics which are unearthed.

Hall said that rain is almost unknown in the desert. A slight sprinkle every ten or twenty years is considered quite an event, he said and rain as known in Portland is not ever dreamed of at Luxor.

Holds Clothes Really Do Make Men And Women

Holds Stature And Posture Of Adults Due To Childhood Garments

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass.—Clothes do make the man, and the woman too—but from a physiological standpoint which has its inception at childhood.

The stature and posture of any adult is directly traceable to the type of clothes they wore in the early stages of their life when their growing bones were soft and subject to malformation from continued pressure on any part, according to Mrs. Esther Cooley Page, extension specialist in clothing at Massachusetts State college.

Mrs. Page advises that clothing, whether bought or home made, should be loose enough to allow absolute freedom for activity of young children. It should also be well cut and fitted so that it does not drag ,bind or shift about.

The garments should be light in weight, with most of the weight centered near the base of the neck. Shoulder strap on under garments should be broad.

Little boys, according to Mrs. Page, seem to outgrow their suits more quickly than do girls their dresses . It is important that trousers fit properly in the crotch and be neither to tight nor too loose. When the trousers button to a blouse, the length of the suit may be adjusted at the waist line. If a long shirt tail is planned for the blouse, the buttons may be lowered as the childs' growth demands more length.

FERVENT EMBRACE KILLS GIRL BRIDE

(International News Service)

VIENNA.—How a husband's too fervent embrace caused the death of his girl bride is reported from Sarvad, in Western Hungary.

Arpad Higety, a captain of the gendarmes, was sent away on a tour of the country immediately after his marriage to his young wife, Elizabeth.

Returning home after an absence of three weeks, Arpad hurried to see his wife again, and took her fiercely in his arms.

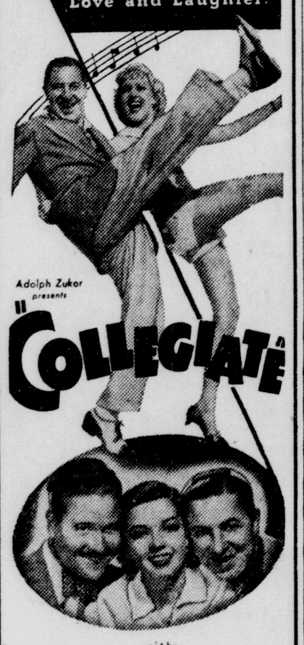

But he had forgotten that his revolver, ready cocked, was still in his belt.

As they embraced, the revolver went off and the bullet tore through his wife's body. She gave a faint cry, collapsed in her husband's arms, and was dead within a few minutes.

that time he had flown a plane for the last time; that he would do it no more. He did not, but he is still very much interested in aviation.

Mr. Brookins has a scrap book. He has kept it ever since he first met the Wright Brothers, as a very young man. It is a treasure of memories to him and is almost a history of aviation in America. It includes original cartoons by McCutcheon, who has been cartoonist for the Chicago Tribune for many many years. These cartoons were drawn when Brookins was astounding Chicago with his air stunts. The other day he was offered $2000 for one of these McCutcheon cartoons, but Brookins is not parting with his scrap book.

Brookins became interested in aviation because he was the next door neighbor to Orville Wright in Dayton. He hung around the bicycle shop which the brothers had when they were all in their 'teens and had a part in the building of the first Glider that the Wrights used at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina.

It will be remembered that the Wright Brothers established the first flying school in the world at Montgomery, Alabama and they enrolled Walter Brookins as their first pupil. It is also interesting to know that immediately after Walter had made only two solo flights, the Wright Brothers turned the Montgomery school over to him. The Wrights had many other "fish to fry."

There is another reason why New Castle people might remember Walter Brookins. He was once married to a New Castle girl, but that is another story.

Jane Byers Is Presidential

Miss Byers

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 27.—Jane Byers, New Wilmington, a junior at Westminster college is one of the most "presidential" students on the campus.

Miss Byers is president of Theta Upsilon sorority and also president of the Pan Hellenic council. An active member in W. A. A. activities, she plays hockey, tennis, and basketball. She is a French major, and plans to teach after graduation.

In New Wilmington high school, Miss Byers studied voice, and was interested in sports. She is the daughter of Reverend and Mrs. W. F. Byers, Neshannock avenue.

FIVE ARE INJURED WHEN CAR SKIDS

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 27.—When an automobile, filled with young people, returning to their homes in Racine late Wednesday night from a gay Thanksgiving party, skidded on the icy highway and overturned five were injured, one severely.

Clarence Haag, 20, of Racine, was treated for lacerated legs and feet at the Providence hospital here. Four other members of the party were taken to their homes. While the injured were struggling in the overturned car a small truck crashed into the wreckage.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF WAR VET

KITTANNING, Pa., Nov. 27.—Mystery today surrounded the death of James Roy Neal, 44, World War veteran and father of six children, whose body was found late Wednesday night along a road a short distance near Dayton, Pa

Neal had suffered a severe blow on the head and physicians believe death was due to a hemorrhage at the base of the brain.

Officials are working on a hit-and-run driver theory, although it was apparent that a fall could have caused the fatal injury.

The wealthiest and most influential man in South Africa is an American citizen, J. W. Schlesinger, of Boston. He isn't in the British Who's Who.

A large church in Santa Rosa, Calif., was constructed entirely from timber obtained from a single redwood tree, and there was wood left over.

A fig tree produces two crops of fruits in a year.

The Island of Manx, which has tail-less cats, also has tail-less chickens.

E. K., Camden, N. J., amends: "About 95 per cent of the 'tin' foil you thought was lead is made of aluminum." He adds: "In New Jersey the Pennsylvania R. R. doesn't own the Pennsylvania R. R. It leases it."

Paul Thomas, McKeesport, Pa., proves that postmen read too, by mailing me a letter without an address, reproves me for misusing a second time the word indulgence in a paragraph about Martin Luther, and suspects me of being imposed upon by what he calls bigots. I used the word in the same sense as Thomas Martin Lindsay, author of the standard Life of Luther, and the Encyclopedia Brittanica, among others.

few words, pays no attention to Germany's protests. He gets the confessions, then executes, in business-like fashion.

CHANCELLOR HITLER tells workers of the National Socialist Party in a speech, not published, that "serious times are ahead for Germany, but Germany is now well enough armed to meet any enemy."

The Kaiser, who preceded Hitler, said the same thing in 1914; he was mistaken. Nobody can predict anything accurately about war, until it is known exactly what airplane explosives and poison gas will do on a big scale. They may, by hideous slaughter, actually discourage war.

In the Big War, France and Germany sat opposite each other in trenches, for years. In their next war, Paris and Berlin might be wiped out, five million French and Germans killed in the first 48 hours. "Fast work."

MADRID'S MISERABLE situation is complicated by widespread dropping of fire bombs, in which chemicals can be used on which water has no extinguishing effect.

Russian chemists, ablest in the world next to those of Germany, are doubtless specializing on incendiary bombs, for the possible benefit of Japan. Japan, as regards her buildings, is, more than any other leading nation, open to attack by fire, practically all her construction work hopelessly inflammable.

THE HUNGARIAN, Dr. Sarga, who challenged fourteen men to "death duels" for insulting his wife, and cut the duels down to nine, fought two duels Tuesday; in one his enemy was shot in the hand, in the other, both fighters missed; honor was satisfied in both cases.

IN ANCIENT DAYS it was solemnly believed that duels were decided by the "judgment of God." Serious lawsuits were decided by duels, the old, feeble, children and females being allowed to hire substitutes. The Lord was supposed to come down and manage the result personally.

Now, with common sense replacing superstition, to some extent, it is generally agreed that duelling is silly.

JOHN HARVARD, who started a little college three hundred years ago, would be delighted to know that that institution now possesses an endowment of more than one hundred and thirty-four million dollars, including land or buildings of the university.

Harvard's income in the last fiscal year was above twelve million dollars, all but eighty-seven thousand spent on education. And what is more important than dollars, Harvard has one of the world's best educators, in its president, Dr. Conant.

A short business discussion ensued and the drawing of names for the exchange of Christmas gifts took place.

Two New Castle girls, Misses Ellen Wylie and Martha Shaffer, were among a large number of out-of-town young folks who were guests of Beta Theta Pi at Bethany College, Bethany, W. Va., over the Thanksgiving holiday.

A novel entertainment was provided for early yesterday morning when a glimpse of Spain was on the schedule. This traditional party, which always begins at 4 o'clock, was developed this year as a Spanish fiesta with every feature of the program and the decorations in keeping with the motif.

F. H. And C. Club

In the home of Mrs. Flora Bevan on North Lee avenue, Wednesday evening, the F. H. and C. club was entertained with Mrs. Mary Vaughn associate hostess. The hours were spent customarily, the chief feature being the drawing of names for the winner of the quilt. Mrs. John Bodendorfer of Sampson street, was the fortunate one.

Fight for Baby's Life

Roger Earl Sniegoski of Chicago, who was only four pounds when he was born, had digestive machinery so tangled that it was necessary to operate immediately to save him from starvation. He survived the ordeal, but was so weakened that he was placed in an incubator and fed with an eye-dropper. He was only ten days old when they operated.

LEGISLATURE IS CALLED FOR DECEMBER 1

Governor Earle Has Issued Call

Unemployment Insurance Law To Be Acted On By Legislature

BRIEF SESSION IS GOVERNOR'S HOPE

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 27.—Growing opposition from industrial groups today threatened the administration's hopes for speedy enactment of an unemployment insurance law at the special session of the newly-elected legislature convening on December 1.

There was no doubt the act, assuring Pennsylvania $22,500,000 in 1936 social security benefits, will be passed in that the complexion of the 1937 legislature is predominantly Democratic.

But, administration leaders privately admitted belief industrial forces will demand airing of the proposed bill in hearings which will prolong an anticipated five-day session to at least two weeks. Technically, the general assembly can pass an act in five days.

The proposed unemployment insurance act, part of the "unfinished business" of the recent extraordinary session, affects some 300,000 employers and 2,500,000 workers in Pennsylvania and brings the state in complete conformity with the federal social security program.

Calls Legislature.

Gov. George H. Earle summoned the legislature to meet December 1 to consider the one subject—unemployment insurance—following unsatisfactory conferences in Washington between Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti and United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

The chief executive had sought "definite assurance" that the 1937 congress would amend the federal statute bringing Pennsylvania—and 31 other states without dovetailing legislation—into conformity with the unemployment insurance phase of the social security program.

This, Cummings told Margiotti, the administration could not give because congress might have a "reluctance" to pass the required amendment in view of legal difficulties and the status of the 16 states already in line with the act.

Rather than risk the possible loss of the $22,500,000 Governor Earle summoned the newly-elected legislature to meet December 1 and enact an unemployment insurance bill. The chief executive indicated he will probably issue a "supplemental" call after midnight November 30, so that there will be no question of the legality of his action. The present membership of the general assembly goes out of existence at that time.

Governor Earle indicated his hope the 258 legislators will return $300 of their $500 salaries as a "patriotic duty" thereby setting expense of the special session at approximately $75,000. But, administration leaders privately admitted, this is very unlikely to happen and the session—19th in the commonwealth's history—will cost some $175,000.

Will of the late Henry Veon, of Wampum, has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. To his sons, Clarence, Dallas and George decedent left each $400. To daughters, Retta Veon Chatterton, $400 and Agnes Veon Guy, $700. To a daughter, Rhoda Veon, the family residence and some personal property. There is a proviso that the real estate must not be touched to pay other legacies. Dallas and Rhoda Veon are named as executors.

The foreclosure situation in respect to homes and farms is creating a major problem for the government. Foreclosures on Home Owners Loan corporation mortgages are averaging around 8000 monthly. At the same time, despite a very lenient policy of the Federal land banks, the government has become the owner of over 31,000 farms, with the possibility of acquiring 30,000 more under actions which have already been started. The HOLC has also been very lenient and has not foreclosed where honest efforts were being made to meet payments, but there are thousands who secured loans and then laid down on the job.

Upon a recommendation of District Attorney Mont L. Ailey, Judge James A. Chambers has approved a settlement of the case of the commonwealth against Donald R. Elder. The child has not yet been born, but the girl and her parents have agreed to accept $400 in full payment. A bond has also been given that the child will not become a charge on the poor district of Lawrence county. In addition to the four hundred dollars, Elder is to pay the lying in and hospital expenses.

Testimony in the automobile damage case of Roy L. Haenel of Pittsburgh against Robert Lang, of Ellwood City has been written out and filed by Court Stenographer Rowland. At the trial of the case the plaintiff was awarded a verdict for $500 and the defendant made an application for a new trial. The accident happened on Line Avenue, Ellwood City. Haenel was going east, and claims that the Lang car, going west, was "hogging" the road and going at a very high rate of speed. Arguments will be heard on the application for a new trial at the December term of court.

County assessors are presenting to the county commissioners long lists of property owners from whom they have been unable to collect the 1935 tax, and are asking for exonerations on the same. A perusal of the lists shows that for the most part the uncollected taxes are on unimproved real estate, principally lots. During the boom times many subdivisions were laid out particularly around New Castle and Ellwood City and on highways leading into those two business centers. There has been no demand for these lots and the assessments have been kept so high on them that the owners would rather abandon them than to pay the taxes.

It is believed that if valuations on these lots were placed at somewhere near their present worth, that many people would pay the taxes on them. As an illustration there are some plots along the New Castle-Ellwood road that have never been improved. They are nothing but acreage, except that on a plot they have been marked as lots. These lots have been assessed at anywhere from $50 to $100 apiece, while the surrounding land is assessed at less an $50 an acre. The owners of the lots do not believe there is any justification for such valuations, when there is nothing in the way of improvements to the lots plotted any more valuable than the surrounding acreage.

In the case of the Zion Industries against P. R. Boyle and Jennie M. Boyle, Judge W. Walter Braham handed down an opinion in which the defendant's affidavit of defense, raising a question of law is sustained, and judgment is directed to be centered in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiff.

The case is one in which P. R. Boyle, of Erie sold merchandise for the Zion Industries of Illinois, and needed credit. The plaintiff sent to the defendant a written contract of surety in which the surety agreed to pay any debts contracted by P. R. Boyle up to $1,000.

This contract of surely was signed by Jennie M. Boyle of 1025 North Mill street, this city. It was learned afterwards that P. R. Boyle was already indebted to the Zion Industries Company to the extent of $303.39. The question arose as to whether the contract of surety covered the debt existing at the time it was signed.

In his opinion Judge Braham finds that the debt of Boyle was contracted on October 5th and 22nd and Nov 5th, 1935, while the contract of surety was not signed until December 6th, 1935. He holds therefore that Miss Boyle cannot be held for the debt existing at the time the surety contract was signed by her.

AROUND CITY HALL

Receipts from the dance conducted by the Fraternal Order of Police last night will be applied to the police pension retirement fund. The pension system here will become operative in January. As yet it is not known who and how many police officers will retire or be retired.

Quest street sanitary sewer nuisance which existed some time ago, has been alleviated, according to a communication submitted by Dr. William L. Steen to the city council, which by virtue of their office, composes the city health board, although the board does not meet as such a body very often.

Council has declared its intention of buying a new truck for the department of streets. It will be used to haul ashes and other material when necessary. The city will not pay for the truck this year. The firm successful in selling the truck to the city fathers will be paid in 1937.

Decision by the WPA that snow removal is a normal function of a public agency means that the city probably will have to pay the total cost. Under the decision of the WPA that body can furnish the men and trucks, but the city must bear the cost.

Council has appropriated $50.00, to the merchants division of the chamber of commerce, as its aid toward Christmas lighting. The request made due to the deterioration of some of the equipment which has been used for several years. City street department trucks will haul the barrels in which the Christmas trees will be held by sand.

WARDEN SAYS PRISON WORK AIDS CONVICT

(International News Service)

CANON CITY, Colo.—Prison industries are among the most important factors in moral rehabilitation of convicts, according to Warden Roy Best, of the Colorado State Penitentiary here.

Other factors tending to correct and guide a return to society of a man with a normal viewpoint on life, Best said, were a widespread educational program, segregation of prisoners removal of all political favoritism, free use of the parole system and more consistency in sentencing prisoners.

Best's six years as head of the Colorado prison have witnessed the raising of standards from those of hopeless idleness that led to the bloody butchery of the riots of October 4 and 5, 1929, to those of one of the model institutions of the country.

"Bob Sled Run" Being Prepared

Young Folks Are Preparing For A Big Time This Winter At Altoona

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa.—A regulation bob sled run, snaking 2,500 feet down a grade averaging 12 per cent, is being pushed rapidly to completion by a corps of National Youth Administration workers and will be opened late in December, according to W. Hilbert Mikel, Blair county NYA supervisor.

Situated literally just a few steps from the city line and easily accessible to all residents, the slide will be as complete as any other in the state. Steeply banked curves, and an upgrade finish with a huge turning arena will be included, as well as a large slabsided lodge, equipped with an open fireplace, near the starting line.

The circuitous course has been so planned that a short climb up a pair of steps will bring riders back to the start again.

Regulation bob sleds, 11 feet long, equipped with effective brakes and manned by trained operators, will carry passengers down the slide. Other sleds will not be permitted.

If the course proves successful, a tobaggon slide and ski jump will be added near the same place, according to present plans.

The Altoona bob sled run is the first project of its kind inaugurated by the NYA in Pennsylvania, and keen interest is manifested in the progress by NYA authorities everywhere, officials said.

FIND EMPLOYMENT CHECK TO CRIME

(International News Service)

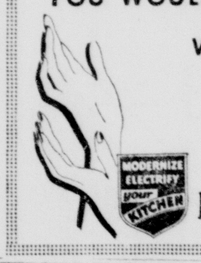

PHILADELPHIA—Federal agencies providing older boys with whole or part-time employment were a factor in checking the growth of crime, social welfare and other organizations authorities said here.

Opening of eight boys' clubs within the last four years hrough efforts of the Crime Prevention Association helped detour many youths from the path of crime, according to former District Attorney Charles E. Fox.

Older boys were guided into CCC camps or to part-time employment with the National Youth Administration, it was pointed out.

Japanese Will Expand Army

Urgent Need For Replenishment Is Pointed Out To Nation

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Nov. 27.—The Japanese army delivered a "memorandum to the country" today, pointing out what it said was the urgent need for replenishment of the army at all costs in the face of military expansion of the Soviet union and China.

Coming on the heels of the Japanese-German accord against communism, the army's statement was considered especially significant. It listed the vast armed forces and military budgets of both China and the U. S. S. R. and referred to the Soviets' alleged efforts to "Bolshevize the world."

"The objective of the U. S. S. R.," it said, "in the east is Japan and in the west is Germany."

It claimed the Soviet army is 1,800,000 strong and that Russia possesses 5,000 airplanes and 5,000 tanks and "is still growing."

Christian Scientist Church Has Service

Thanksgiving Day Service Is Conducted Yesterday At Church On Moody Avenue

A service approprate to Thanksgiving Day was conducted Thursday in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 334 East Moody avenue. It included the reading of the Thanksgiving proclamation issued by the President of the United States, the singing by the congregation of several well chosen hymns from the Christian Science hymnal, and a solo entitled, "Shepherd Show Me How to Go".

The Golden Text of the lesson-sermon on Thanksgiving was "I will praise the name of God with a song and will magnify him with thanksgiving" (Psalms 69:30).

Many of the congregation availed themselves of a brief opportunity to express gratitude for healings received through Christian Science. The service closed with benediction

LAID OFF FROM WORK BY CONSTIPATION

"For four years I suffered from constipation. I had gotten so weak I had to lay off from work. My doctor told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since then, my grocery list has never been complete without it."—Mr. A. W. Murphy, 1010 16th St., Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

This delicious cereal will give you the same, sure relief. Laboratory tests prove it's safe. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestines. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B which tones the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Serve as a cereal or cook into appetizing recipes. Isn't this natural food better than pills and drugs?

When you're at the grocery store today, get a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Try it a week, and see if you don't feel worlds better. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Carnes, who said "he liked to take a ride," would wait around until the driver had gone into a store or house, when he would get in behind the wheel and drive away.

The child has been in the possession of the father since their separation. Under the order the child is to have the right to visit her father at stated intervals.

PITTSBURGH MAN IS HELD IN JAIL

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—Charles Leslie, 32, was held in jail today after his wife, whom he had allegedly locked in a bedroom to settle an argument over liquor, was found in the yard behind their apartment seriously hurt by a three-story plunge from a window, police reported.

In Braddock General hospital, she was under treatment for a compound fracture of the left leg, severe cuts and bruises and a black eye.

Modern Santa Claus Seen On Christmas Seal

Thirtieth Annual Seal Sale For Relief Of Tuberculosis Starts Today

SEALS REACH HOMES TODAY

Santa Claus has gone modern on this year's Christmas Seal, the sale of which started today, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis society.

This is the thirtieth annual Christmas Seal sale, and the tenth one to use a Santa Claus as the central figure. Santa's button-like nose, his apple-red cheeks, his twinkling eyes, and stocking cap, give him an unusually gay appearance. Just as Santa has evolved through the years, so have the methods of fighting tuberculosis evolved and improved.

Christmas seals sell for one cent each; and for those who wish to contribute more than by the purchase of the seals, there are Christmas Seal Health bonds for from $5 to $1,000.

Most of the residents of New Castle and Lawrence County will receive their Christmas seals through the mail today, the letters containing a generous supply having been placed in the mails over Thanksgiving. Those who did not receive seals in this manner, and who wish to contribute to this great life-saving cause, can obtain seals at the headquarters of the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis society at 17½ South Mercer street, or by phoning 5084, they will be mailed to you with a return envelope in which you can place your contribution. Additional seals can also be obtained in this manner.

Today, seal sale posters are being distributed to business houses throughout the city, calling the attention of the citizens to the seal Sale now under way.

Western Section Of State Feels Blast Of Winter

Heavy Snows Reported, Making Highways Dangerous,, Temperatures As Low As 10

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 27.—Winter set in on western Pennsylvania in earnest today, with continued snowfalls causing hazardous driving conditions, the state highway department announced here.

Heaviest snows were reported in the northwestern sector, especially in Erie county where wide-spread drifting has continued since Wednesday night. A total of 95 trucks and 252 men were on duty cleaning the roads in the northwestern area.

In Pittsburgh area, where icy conditions were reported, 32 trucks and 214 men were at work while in Fayette, Somerset, and Washington counties, 19 trucks and 67 men were on the roads.

Temperatures varied from 10 degrees to 22 degrees in the western part of the state.

Chas. Fleming Visiting Here

Charles Fleming, of Kurtz Place, who was outstanding for Pitt University Thanksgiving Day, is visiting at his home.

Fleming, a former New Castle high gridder, looks promising for next season. Walter Raskowski, another local grid star, was also a standout in the Pitt-Tech annual tussle.

Officials Inspect Repaired Bridge

County Commissioners And Viewers Check West Washington Street Bridge Improvements

County Commissioners Bolinger, Cotton and Hannon, with their solicitor, Attorney William McElwee, met with viewers appointed by the court this morning to inspect the improvements made on the West Washington street bridge. The viewers were Attorney Homer C. Drake, Alexander Main and George Hetenbaugh.

They went over the work to see if it had been done according to the plans and specifications. The viewers will make their report to court and if it is found to be satisfactory, the bond of the contractor will be released. There were some extras on the job, the necessity for which did not develop until after the specifications had been drawn and the contractor had started work. The extras will not be large. The whole contract will probably run somewhere around $12,000.

It has proved to be one of the most satisfactory improvements made in a long time, as the dangerous two lanes have been removed by the elimination of the fenced off center of the bridge. According to engineers, the bridge is now much stronger than when originally built, and there is no question but that it is much safer with the whole roadway thrown open.

Three Fires Occur Over Thanksgiving

Damage Is Slight In Trio Of Blazes In City Over Holiday Period

Firemen answered three alarms over the Thanksgiving holiday, the damage being small.

Wednesday evening at 6:30, they were summoned to the home of Merle Thomas, of 512 Electric street, by an alarm from Box 59. The children had set fire to paper in the hot air shaft, which set fire to the wall, burning up alongside the heater duct from the second to the third floors. The damage was around $50.

Thursday afternoon at 1:45, firemen were summoned to 1003½ Moravia street, by an alarm from Box 53, when sparks fell out of a crack in the chimney at the home of Mrs. Sue Kerber, setting fire to the footer of the house. The damage was around $10.

At 4:15 Thursday afternoon, an alarm from Box 16 summoned them to the corner of Beaver and Falls street, where the backfire from the carbuhetor set fire to oil and grease about the engine, causing damage of around $5.

Defective Sidewalk Is Basis For Suit

Ella And Frank Milton Sue City Of New Castle For $11,500 Damages

Mrs. Ella Milton and Frank Milton, her husband, of 458 Neshannock avenue, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against the City of New Castle, in which they ask for $11,530 damages on account of injuries received when Mrs. Milton fell on an alleged defective sidewalk in front of 738 Butler avenue.

It is claimed that Mrs. Milton was walking west on the south side of Butler avenue, when she stepped into a hole or crevice in the sidewalk, tripped and fell. She sustained a fracture of her right arm, injuries to her left leg, and suffered from shock. She is asking for $5,000.

Mr. Stevenson asks $30 spent in doctor bills, $1,500 for being deprived of the comfort and assistance of his wife and $5,000 on account of the loss of her earning power. It is claimed that before the accident she was able to earn $10 per week as a seamstress, and that this earning power has been impaired.

If Hawaii hurts our resort business too much, we'll give it to Japan. Oh, yes; we will. That's the smart way we solved the problem of Philippine sugar.

BRITISH BABIES HAVE IMPROVED HEALTH RECORD

(International News Service)

LONDON—Although the birth-rate in Britain is the lowest in history, British babies are scoring a new health record.

One by one the deadly diseases are being conquered and Sir Kingsley Woods, British Minister of Health, summing up the annual report on the country's health, announced "there remain only two chinks in our armor—cancer and maternal morality."

The Ministry's health report for 1935-36 was as follows:

The death rate for infants under one year is 57 per thousand births—the lowest in history.

Deaths from tuberculosis were fewer than 30,000—also a record.

The maternal morality rate was 3.93 lowest for 12 years.

Compared with pre-war days, the rate of saving infant lives has increased by 40,000 a year. The toll of tuberculosis has been halved in the past 25 years.

A 25 pound turkey is estimated to have more than 3,800 feathers.

Old Toys Becoming New At Mission's Toy Shop

Hammers are pounding—saws are grinding—and beaming children's smiles are in the making at the City Rescue Mission down at 17 South Mercer street these days!

And the word is out—the mission Santa's own toy shop once more is operating!

Workmen stopping over at the mission became repairmen and, under Superintendent Ben J. Watkins' supervision, turn battered toys into useful gifts for children who might otherwise be overlooked when the holiday comes. The shop is conducted annually and in years past has supplied scores of youngsters with the cheer only gifts can do.

Toys aren't the only thing mended—for books, clothing, food for baskets and other things get attention.

Delivery List Is Growing

Today the "needy family list" on the mission Santa's desk numbers 15 homes where Christmas would be just another day had not the toy shop functioned.

Superintendent Watkins is well pleased with the way New Castle people have donated used toys—and today asked for others to contribute something, no matter how small. A truck will call at the door of any home if the mission shop is notified. The call is Bell 430.

The mission, Watkins said, will also supply names of needy families to classes, societies or other groups which want to play Santa to local people this year.

Says Newspapers Were Unusually Fair In Campaign

Philadelphia Editor Cites Conditions In Recent National Campaign

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 27.—Most Pennsylvania newspapers gave a fair share of their columns to all candidates in the recent presidential election, Fred Fuller Shedd, editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, told members of the Penn State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraterntiy.

Newspapers printed long accounts of speeches of President Roosevelt, Landon, Lemke, Dr. Townsend, and Father Coughlin, Shedd pointed out at the fraternity's initiation banquet.

"Even in Chicago," he reminded, "the Daily News owned by Frank Knox, candidate for the vice presidency, printed both sides of all issues. It was this wide publication of all issues that helped contribute to Roosevelt's victories in cities where newspapers were, nevertheless, anti-New Deal."

Shedd is a regular lecturer on the faculty of the department of journalism at the Pennsylvania State College.

Other speakers at the banquet were State Senator Edward J. Thompson, Philipsburg; Theodore Arter, editor and publisher of the Altoona Tribune; and Prof. Franklin Banner, head of the department of journalism.

The Penn State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi this year rates first in placement of graduates in newspaper work and second in efficiency among all national chapters. Ninety-three per cent of the chapter's alumni are employed by newspapers.

NAMING BABIES FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

PHILADELPHIA—In this city, turned Democratic after many decades, are several Franklin Roosevelts—any one of whom may be president 50 or more years from now.

They are babies born on or soon after last election day who will bear the president's name through life. Here also is one Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cook, who is a girl. She was born just after the eelction returns began to drift in election night.

The first chamber of commerce in the United States was that of New York, organized in 1768.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

People Are Proud In South America

Spaniards Believe Their Language Is One Of Richest And People Are Best

DUELS TO DEATH ARE OFTEN FOUGHT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Following up President Roosevelt's Pan-American tour:

For heaven's sake, don't refer to an Argentine as an Argentinian.

That would be on a par with speaking of an American as an Amerikinian.

A masculine Argentine is an Argentino. One of the gentler sex is an Argentina.

Considered collectively it is all right to call them Argentines.

But Argentinians? The republic would be almost ready to go to war before having that designation wished upon them. I wouldn't blame them. It would be like calling us Yankarinos.

* * *

CITY OF "GOOD AIRS"

Buenos Aires is pronounced Bway-noas (accent on the first syllable) Ah-ee-rays (accent on the second syllable).

It means "good airs".

We wouldn't express it in the plural, but the Spanish do, and that's their business.

The "air" at "B. A." is not particularly better than elsewhere, but again, what of it?

And don't say Monty-vid-io, with the accent on the second syllable.

It's Monty-vid-aye-o, with the accent on the third syllable.

* * *

THE SPANISH LANGUAGE

Another thing to remember:

The Spaniard believes that he has a very rich language—a language with many more words than the English language possesses. The English dictionary has about twice as many words as the Spanish dictionary contains.

But why cival?

* * *

"PICK" OF NATIONS

The people of Uruguay (capital Montevideo consider themselves the very pick of Latin Americans.

They are, it is true, pretty pure Europeans. Maybe they are not more so than the Argentines. The Argentines dispute it. It is a moot point. Anyway, the two republics are rivals as to quality. Some of the other countries are largely black, like Brazil. Some have a strong Indian infusion in their various populations. Argentina and Uruguay are predominantly more on North American standards.

They want to be considered on that basis.

* * *

REVOLUTIONS

I myself think that Argentina outclasses Uruguay; it is so much larger.

Parenthetically—

Brazil, the most populous of the southern republics and, in area, larger than the continental United States, traditionally is the most friendly to Yankeedom.

But Brazil is unreliable; revolutionary.

Argentina and Uruguay have their revolutions also, but they are not genuine overturns; they are more in the nature of re-elections.

* * *

DUELS OFTEN FOUGHT

Public men have duels in South America.

They are not the harmless kind with which France is familiar; participants are killed in them.

It is necessary to consider that a champion of Yankee friendship may be killed in an encounter with an opponent, and materially change a whole political situation.

* * *

FOOLISH TARIFFS

Economic factors likewise enter into the equation.

Tariffs, particularly.

Inter-American trade has interfered ridiculously with inter-American business.

For example, imagine the barring of Central American imports of bananas in order to force American fruit-eaters to eat American apples! It was attempted during the last Smoot-Hawley protectionistic campaign.

STOP NIGHT COUGHING AND THROAT TICKLE. Get a good night's sleep. A sip of Kemp's Balsam soothes tender membranes . . . lubricates dryness.

Highland Pupils Good Spellers

Class Averages In Spelling Contest Average Better Than 97 Per Cent

In a test on the spelling words studied during the first half of the semester the 6B and 6A pupils of the Highland school made very good scores. This was a written test of 72 words and not only was it necessary for the pupils to be able to spell the words correctly, but it was necessary that they write them correctly, which for 10 and 11 year old pupils presents much difficulty.

In the 6A class the following pupils wrote and spelled every word correctly: Jack Butz, Charles Byler, Elnor Black, Sally Brown, Patricia Broadhead, Thelma Evans, Joan Louer, Jean Stunkard, Jean Thomas.

In the 6B class the following pupils wrote and spelled every word correctly: Clarence Armstrong, John Kerr, Billy Margraf, Dick Moorhead, Nancy Gilliland, Shirley Haughton, Kathryn Johns, Patricia Kradel, Mary Lutton, Muriel McCleary, Ann Parsons, Patti Preston, Helen Connery.

The average for the 6A class on the 72 word test was 97.7 per cent correct.

The average for the 6B class on the 72 word test was 97.1 per cent correct.

Students Give Many Hours To Holcad Work

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Holcad staff of Westminster college, publishers of the student newspaper, have decided they are a definite asset to Westminster. Each year the combined staff contributes over 4,500 working hours in putting out thirty weekly editions.

Av Le Monte, Mt. Lebanon, editor, spends an average of 30 hours on each edition; and Hubert Randall, Erie, news editor, from 15 to 20 hours each week. In Addition, the sports editor and business manager each contribute 10 hours; two advertising assistants, 10 hours; an assistant sports editor, five; and two circulation assistants averaging five hours weekly. With a general reportorial staff that averages 50 hours weekly, the total for each week amounts to 150 hours of work, which if paid for at the rate of 50 cents an hour, would cost the college $300 a month.

All of this labor, with the exception of a small commission made by the business staff, is given free in order that the Holcad may appear each Saturday morning.

JOB SIMPLE, SAYS GIRL STEEPLEJACK

NEWBURYPORT, Mass.—Take it from Miss Mildred Plunkett, 18, only professional woman steeplejack in the business, there's really nothing to it.

It's such a simple job to "rig" a steeple that "we do it at night so the people can't see how easy it is" says she.

Miss Plunkett has perched in many New England cities, atop a tiny Bos'n chair 300 feet off the ground applying a paint brush while the pole swayed dizzily.

In fact, she got her first job from "Red" OLeary, Exeter, N. H. steeple jack, when she substituted for him atop a pole that would not bear his weight. It only bent under her

Little Danger Of Any Major Earthquake In Western Pennsylvania

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 27.—Although Western Pennsylvania is influenced by more than 300 "earthquakes" each year, there is little possibility of a major quake in this area, Homer M. Rutherford, University of Pittsburgh seismologist, says.

During the last year Western Pennsylvania has had sufficient earth tremors that, if placed all together, would have leveled all cities in the district, Rutheford claims.

On an average of five times a week, and frequently as often as 20 times, the delicately tuned seismographs in the basement of the University's Cathedral of Learing have responded to disturbances varying in intensity, but of enough combined strength to make the March floods and their aftermath seem slight in comparison.

Today, a little more than a year since the district experienced a quake of sufficient strength to jar pictures from the walls and arouse the heaviest sleepers, Rutherford said, "We may not have another quake for years to come, and yet an earthquake of great force might be felt here tomorrow."

Having charted earthquakes in the Pitt station for more than five years, Rutherford says that it is "about a million-to-one bet' that the district will never be visited by an earthquake of disastrous proportions.

The University seismograph instruments are comparable to ears pressed against the shale bedrock underlying the 41-story Cathedral of Learning. Extremely sensitive, the instruments register only the tremors broadcast by convulsive movements of the earth's subterranean crust.

Much like a pendulum, the seismograph rests its tip gently on the ground. When the ground beneath begins to quiver, so that if the ground moves slightly to the left or right, the pendulum stays still, tracing out the movements of the earth.

Rumblings Traced

In this manner, rumblings of the earth are traced on graphlike sheets, and the story of earthquakes is told in a jagged set of lines of varying height.

The usual quake recorded by the instruments shows a line about an eighth of an inch high on the charts. So sensitive and scientific are the instruments, however, that local vibrations caused by the pounding of traffic on the street above do not affect the seismographs.

Earthquakes occur from 10 to 100 times daily in some parts of the world, Rutherford explains. The majority are of insufficient intensity to be felt at great distances and are so weak by the time they are recorded at the Pitt station that the man in the street does not realize that there has been any disturbance.

The area within the St. Lawrence valley "earthquake zone" extends south as far as Erie, Professor Ruthorford explains. The whole district of Western Pennsylvania, however, is influenced by disturbances in this area, he points out.

"The seismograph operates much like a radio," Rutherford says. "It has to be 'tuned" to the disturbance. As the radio has to be tuned in to pick up broadcasts on a certain wave length, so does the seismograph pick up earthquakes."

The Pitt station is the only one in educational institutions in the state and one of the few stations maintained by universities in the entire country. It is one of 38 teleseismic stations in the entire country which keeps daily records and data on earth tremors which are used by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. The station, steadily being enlarged and modernized, is among the best in existence.

Rutherford also has the distinction of teaching regular courses in seismology, which study is offered in only seven other American institutions.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Galatians 3:28—"There can be neither bond nor free . . . for ye are all one man in Christ Jesus."

By ALVIN E. BELL

(The international uniform lesson on the above topic for Nov. 29 is Paul's epistle to Philemon, the Golden Text being Gal. 3:28, "There can be neither bond nor free...for ye are all one man in Christ Jesus." As an exposition of this lesson we quote the chapter in this epistle from "The Gist of the Bible Book by Book," published by Dr. Alvin E. Bell, Toledo, O.)

THE EPISTLE TO PHILEMON was written from Paul's prison in Rome at the same time and was sent by the hand of the same messenger as Colossians, for Philemon was a leading member of the church at Colosse, in whose home the church met for its worship. Onesimus was a slave of Philemon who ran away, probably stealing some of his master's money to assist him in reaching Rome. At Rome he came under the influence of Paul's preaching and was genuinely converted, and confessed his whole past to Paul, and was induced by Paul to return to his master at Colosse and try to make amends for his unfaithfulness. To make the slave's return easier, and to assure a kindly reception for the returning prodigal, Paul wrote this purely personal letter, which is a perfect gem of courtesy and tact.

An Emancipation Proclamation

The time was when this letter to Philemon was made the strong defense of human slavery. But to so regard it is utterly to miss its spirit and intent. In fact, it asserts a fundamental social principle, based upon the democracy of Jesus Christ, which, when finally accepted by society, outlawed human slavery in the civilized world. It was a perfectly unique thing, in that day when human slavery was so universally recognized as right and necessary, for any one of Paul's standing to speak of a slave as Paul does of Onesimus: "For love's sake . . . I beseech thee for my child, whom I have begotten in my bonds, Onesimus, who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable to thee and me, whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart."

Christian Brotherhood

He even dares to appeal to Philemon to receive back the runaway slave "no longer as a servant, but more than a servant, a brother beloved, in the flesh and in the Lord.' Think of it! A slave to be a "brother beloved" to his master because both are now Christians and servants of one common Master. Paul was confident that his appeal for the runaway would be heeded, and that Philemon would go even beyond his request in love for Onesimus, for he says: "Having confidence in thine obedience I write unto thee, knowing that thou will do even 'beyond what I say.' It is this "beyond", this "good measure", this "second mile" that interests us in studying the outlawing of human slavery. Paul did not command that Philemon should set Onesimus free. Neither did Jesus explicitly forbid human slavery. But both Jesus and Paul did proclaim principles of brotherhood and universal love, which, when practiced even imperfectly, make human slavery impossible, because intolerable. Thus the gospel of equality and brotherly love works quietly but irresistably as leaven in the meal of society and human slavery has been outlawed by the love that goes "even beyond what is commanded."

Outlawing War

War is the next curse which must be outlawed. But it can only be done as men and women in sufficient numbers in all nations practice the brotherly love taught by Jesus, the love which "goes beyond" and regards even the worst as "a brother beloved".

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MOSCOW—A previously unknown type of prehistoric rhinoceros, five times the size of those now living and more than 13 feet in height, has been discovered during excavation on the shore of the Aral Sea in western Kazakstan, by an expedition from the Academy of Sciences of the U. S. S. R.

During the past four months the expedition has been digging in the region of the dried-up lake. As-Kazani-Ser, where a large collection of skeletons, bones, and teeth of prehistoric monsters has been gathered. It has now been brought to Moscow for study and restoration.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

OLD DOCUMENTS VIEWED

This week, students in Miss Elsie F. Calvin's United States history classes had the unusual privilege of seeing several very old land grants. These documents belong to James Wood, a student in one of Miss Calvin's classes. They were granted to some of Jame's ancestors.

One of the documents, probably the most valuable and interesting, is a land grant of 500 acres to a Captain John Bankson for "services rendered in the Revolutionary war." The boundries of the tract are stated, amusingly, as "from the white oak to the gum tree." The grant is written on sheepskin parchment, now yellowed by age, and is signed by Benjamin Franklin. The patent granted land in Westmoreland county and was accompanied by a bill showing the grant. This bill was a survey of land designating how the ground was to be plotted out. This land patent was authorized by the Supreme Executive Council of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of which Franklin was president.

Two other land grants, which also belong to James, were granted in 1808 and 1823. They are for land in Westmoreland and Shenango. It is interesting to note that the Pennsylvania coat-of-arms on the documents of 1808 and 1823 is the same one that is used today on official Pennsylvania papers.

These documents added much to the interest of the history classes, particularly those which have just finished studying about the part Franklin played in the American Revolution.

GIRL RESERVES AT "Y"

Monday evening, the Girl Reserves met in the Y. W. C. A. for their weekly meeting. The meeting was opened by President Miriam Clinefelter. After devotions were led by Helen Chill, the minutes were read by Secretary Leah Davis.

Announcements were made regarding the All-Association dinner to be held in the Cathedral on December 1, by Jane Haven, and by Helen Wilson and Edwina Connery regarding the Thanksgiving dance that was held at the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday evening. The girls retired to their various interest groups after singing songs that will be sung at the All-Association dinner.

SENIOR HI-Y MEETS

New Castle Senior Hi-Y club held its regular weekly meeting Monday, November 23. The meeting was in charge of the new members with Dean Nicopolis, president pro tem. Frederick Freeze opened the meeting with devotions.

Bill Ellgas and William Thomson were named as the club's delegates to the Older Boys' Conference to be held at Beaver Falls, December 4-5. The meeting was then turned over to Ed. Campbell and Ben Jenkins who entertained with a short program of popular songs. After the meeting the members enjoyed a fast game of water polo in the Y pool.

LINCOLN HI-Y MEETS

On Tuesday, November 18, the Lincoln Hi-Y met at the Y. M. C. A. Donald Gibson opened the meeting with devotionals. The club's new advisor, Jerry Morris, was introduced to the members. Plans were discussed for a Thanksgiving party and a basketball team. Bruce Headland and Wayne Beaver were accepted into the club and the meeting was adjourned with the friendship circle.

THANKSGIVING DINNER POPULAR

Thursday, November 19, a special turkey dinner was served in the school cafeteria during the two lunch periods. A total of 244 plates were sold during both periods.

SENATUS ROMANUS MEETS

The Senatus Romanus met on Friday, November 20 in the cafeteria. Consul Prima Henderson presided. An interesting report on the Roman Saturnalia was given by Leanna Morgan.

The advanced Latin classes are holding a Saturnalia modeled on the old Roman one on Thursday evening, December 10. To give us still more information on this, Frances Baron read an article on Roman food. The program committee then circulated crossword puzzles which are to be worked out and are to be brought to the next meeting.

FRENCH STUDENTS HEAR SPEAKER

Tuesday morning, November 17, a meetinng of the French club was held in the cafeteria.

Christina Perrotta, Janet Payne, and Betty Brown, the committee on club colors, passed out to each member small braided ribbon "circles" of red, white and blue. These colors were chosen because they are the colors of the French national flag.

In the absence of the program chairman, June Travers, President Helen Davis introduced Miss Sowash, who spoke to the club on "Education In France." Since Miss Sowash, herself, was educated in France, her talk proved doubly interesting to the club members.

SCHOOL DISMISSED EARLY

Wednesday afternoon, November 25, the high school was dismissed for the Thanksgiving vacation. The lull in school activities is most welcome to the students. School will be resumed on Monday, November 30, at the regular time.

Jail Sentences For Drunken Drivers Nothing New Here

Judge M. A. Musmanno's drive against drunken drivers in Allegheny county is a move that merits the commendation of all right thinking people. In the past few weeks the judge has made the headlines regularly with his sentences of jail for drunken drivers and in Allegheny county this is news.

It isn't anything new in Lawrence county. Drunken drivers write their own tickets in Lawrence county and the standard sentence for first offenders is 30 days to the county jail.

It is a heartening thing to see other judges now do the same thing but the idea of giving all drunken drivers a jail sentence, regardless of their names, stations in life or political affiliations is strictly a Lawrence county idea in its origin.

2,400-YEAR-OLD RING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—A ring five centuries older than our calendar, is the object of a hunt by Cambridge police. It was lost by Spencer Beeman, Chicago, Harvard university student. The 2,400-year-old ring was made of yellow gold.

How Many Pennies Your Child's Life?

Don't Try to "Save" on Home Remedies—Ask Your Doctor

There is one point, on which practically all doctors agree. That is: Don't give your child unknown remedies without asking your doctor first.

All mothers know this. But sometimes the instinct to save a few pennies by buying "something just as good" overcomes caution.

When it comes to the widely used children's remedy — "milk of magnesia" — many doctors for over half a century have said "PHILLIPS." For Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the standard of the world. Safe for children.

Keep this in mind, and say "PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA" when you buy. Comes now, also in tablet form. Get the form you prefer. But see that what you get is labeled "Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia." 25¢ for a big box of the tablets at drug stores.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Wealthy Man Suffers Fatal Bullet Wounds

Barclay H. Warburton, Jr., 38, Dies From Gunshot Wounds In Abomen

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Barclay H. Warburtotn, Jr., 38, sportsman, gentleman farmer and grandson of the late John Wanamaker, was dead today, the victim of a Thanksgiving Day hunting accident on his 94-acre farm at nearby Doylestown.

Warburton, known to intimates as "Buzz," was an experienced hunter and loved the sport. He slipped while climbing a rail fence and fell against his shotgun while gunning alone for pheasants. The full charge struck him in the abdomen. Though mortally wounded, he fought his way for a mile to the lawn of his home, "Saracen Farm," and collapsed.

Remaining conscious during a blood transfusion, he told phyhicians what happened. He gasped: "I was leaning the gun against the fence and it went off while I was climbing over. I don't know just how the trigger was pulled. Well, I know I'm going to die. That's right, isn't it?"

Armory Stone Work Will Be Covered

Orders Given To Proceed With Work To Protect Present Construction

Following the visit of Colonel Woodend of the State Armory Board, on Tuesday of this week, workmen were ordered to start covering the open stone work of the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory in Cascade Park which has been exposed to the weather since the cessation of work some weeks ago due to lack of funds.

There is a supplemental project in Washington at the present time which would provide funds for the completion of the administration unit and the stables of the armory. However it is doubtful if the laying up of stone would be done during the sub-zero weather and hence the covering of the open stone work now to prevent frost damaging the walls.

Economic Prosperity Life Blood Of Peace

Economic Matters Will Be Among Those Discussed At South American Conference

Hope To Arrive At Everlasting Peace For Entire Western Hemisphere

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Economic prosperity is the life blood of peace.

And economic matters will be among the most important topics to be discussed by envoys at the inter-American peace conference at Buenos Aires next month.

From the deliberations of the 21 American republics is expected to evolve machinery that will insure permanent peace in the western hemisphere.

Strengthen Ties

No small part of this new peace instrument will be the strengthening of trade ties between the United States and the Latin Americas.

Should war come in Europe, the economic prosperity of the western hemisphere is certain to be seriously affected. The normal flow of trade between the United States, the Latin Americas and their European markets would be interrupted.

The neutrality act of the United States, which it is proposed the other American republics adopt, clamps down an embargo on arms, ammunition and implements of war, and bars loans, to belligerents.

This is one of the many factors that would contribute to trade upset.

Vital Question

So, in welding a bond of peace between the American republics, the subject of expanding inter-American commerce is a vital one.

This flow of trade holds an important position in the total commerce of the United States and its southern neighbors.

Last year, 15 per cent of United States exports, 22 per cent of imports and 19 per cent of the total of foreign trade was with the Latin Americas.

In 1934, 28 per cent of the exports of the Latin Americas came to the United States, and the United States in turn supplied 30 per cent of their imports.

But since the depression the United States' trade with the Latin American nations has 'een below pre-war levels. Another cause for apprehension has been the trade encroachments of Germany and Japan in several of the countries.

Eager To Rebuild

So the United States is particularly eager to rebuild its Latin American market. The countries are natural trade complements. The Latin Americas are principally a source of raw materials while the United States is a natural provider of their manufactured needs.

Stimulation of trade between the nations now is important in revitalizing prosperity that waned during the depression. If war came in Europe, the Americas would be in a far better position to weather the resultant economic storm.

Tariff truces, equality of opportunity in international trade and furtherance of the reciprocal trade treaties will be discussed at the conference.

REICH WAGES WAR ON WASTE BY HOUSEWIVES

(International News Service)

BERLIN—Charging that foodstuffs worth $100,000,000 are lost annually through sheer negligence or improper care, the German Ministry of Agriculture has declared "War on Waste" and directed a serious appeal to German housewives for help.

According to statistical figures supplied by the official Institute for Economic, Research, Germany is now able to produce 85 per cent of her total foodstuff requirements, whereas in 1927 the agriculture and the foodstuffs industry merely supplied 65 per cent. The remaining 15 per cent have still to be imported from abroad and must be paid for in foreign exchange, of which there is a serious shortage in the Reichsbank, the institute points out. In order to help reduce this import, waste of home produced foodstuffs must by order of the ministry of agriculture henceforth be reduced as much as possible.

There are approximately 48,000 automobile dealers in the United States.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

"BOOTLEG" PARENT CLUBS

OVER THE nation many bootleg P.-T. A.'s have been springing up. They really are not Parent-Teacher associations at all, since they have never officially qualified as such, never been certified by the state and national organizations. Like bootleg liquor, they escape the tax: they pay nothing to the state or national bodies. Neither are they guided by the standards of these parent groups.

By what moral right, may we ask, do they use the name? The official Parent-Teacher association and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and its state branches have earned their name through long years of developing and maintaining certain standards. And the official organizations has earned professional status, being recognized by other leading education associations. Even several state governors have, by proclamation, set aside annually a Parent-Teacher Association week.

It would seem as proper for any group of persons to organize themselves as Masons, Knights of Columbus or Rotarians, without permission of the respective state and national bodies or regulation by these bodies, as for a group of parents and teachers to call themselves a P.-T. A. under similar conditions.

Costs Little

What other great organization costs its membership so little to be official as does the genuine P.-T. A.? The dues to state and national bodies total only 15 cents or less. And for this amount, which is less than a ticket to a movie, the local organization has representation at all the district, state and national conventions, has free expert service of the field workers from the state and national offices, and considerable free literature. Through such contacts the standards and ideals of parent-teacher work are maintained.

Curiously enough, groups in areas most able to pay this small official fee are sometimes the first to refuse to do so, preferring to be bootleg P.-T. A.'s. While their school may have 100 per cent membership in the state and national association, some teachers and principals will try to promote bootleggery with the selfish argument that the money should be spent locally. If school men and women were wiser, they would help to lead their local group of parents and teachers to qualify as genuine P.-T. A., with state and national membership. Indeed, it is the bootleg P.-T. A.'s which have caused some teachers and superintendents to oppose the Parent-Teacher association movement.

New Castle News Only American Newspaper To Reach Pacific Island

Americans have come to believe that nothing is so old as yesterday's newspaper but there are spots in the world where newspapers are valuable as long as they hold together.

Consider the Island of Cuyo, one of the Philippines, 300 miles north of Manila. An island of 23,000 inhabitants and the only American newspaper that enters the island is the New Castle News, received by Miss Beaulah Heaton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Heaton of Northview avenue.

The Island of Cuyo is approximately 12,300 miles from the New Castle and by the time Miss Heaton gets today's copy of The News, you will be reading Christmas articles in your current edition.

The copy of The News that goes to Miss Heaton is used to its ultimate. It is first read by Miss Heaton and any Americans who might be with her. Then it goes into the library of the mission school in which she teaches, for the older girls to read.

After everybody who can read it has read it, the paper goes to the youngsters of the kindergarten who cut out the pictures and the advertisement cuts for use in their scrap books.

Miss Heaton is by long odds the subscriber of The News farthest away from the point of publication. Other subscribers are located in Europe, in South America and in other far-away spots but none quite so far as Miss Heaton. If she gets this edition of The News before Christmas the staff of The News wants to send her and her school the very best of the season's greetings.

British Cabinet Debates Crisis

Emergency Meeting Is Called By Prime Minister Baldwin

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Gravely concerned over recent events in the Spanish civil war, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin called a sudden, emergency meeting of his cabinet today and debated with his ministers means of keeping Britain from being dragged into a dangerous crisis.

The cabinet met for a full hour in the prime minister's room in the House of Commons, and was understood to have reviewed the Spanish situation in its entirety, including consideration of the question of granting belligerent rights to the rebels.

Great secrecy enshrouded the meeting, but its importance was apparent. The ministers were summoned unexpectedly, Minister of Labor Brown being forced to travel all night from Liverpool, where he had been scheduled to attend a civic function today. Other ministers likewise were compelled to cancel previous engagements.

Voronoff Claims A New Treatment In Rejuvenation

(International News Service)

MENTON, France, Nov. 27—A new system of rejuvenation, consisting of a series of injections of young blood taken from healthy youths, is said to have been perfected here by Dr. Alexander Voronoff, brother of Serge-Vonoroff, internationally known scientist and monkey gland specialist.

Men of all ages have been writing thousands of letters from all over the world to Dr. Voronoff at his home at the Chateau Grimaldi here, inquiring about details of the new treatment.

When a subject arrives at the clinic, Dr. Voronoff first of all gives him a thorough general examination to see if it is possible to apply the treatment. After an extremely minute analysis of the blood, it is learned in what general category he falls.

Then blood donors with corresponding characteristics have to be found, and this sometimes requires the elimination of more than 100 young persons each of whose blood is subjected to most delicate chemical experiments.

The blood is then treated scientifically before it is infused in the patient so that it will act quickly in aiding him to recover his natural forces. The quantity of the injection is remarkably small, but it acts like a vaccine and is claimed to be almost always successful.

Find Body Of William E. Dellman, Beaten To Death In Flaming Automobile

(International News Service)

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 27.—Police were baffled today in their search for clues to the mysterious death of William Earle Dellman, 34-year-old salesman who was found dead in his burning automobile along a lonely mountain road, near here, early yesterday.

Police said the car had been turned into a funeral pyre deliberately to dispose of the body. A passing motorist discovered the flaming car, called fireman and found the body, dumped into the rear seat, face downward, the head crushed.

A blunt instrument was used in batting the head, state police disclosed.

A dollar bill and a few coins were found in a rear pocket of the dead man's trousers.

Dellman, a resident of Charleston, W. Va., was widely known in this district as a salesman for a suspender company.

New Castle News Only American Newspaper To Reach Pacific Island

Americans have come to believe that nothing is so old as yesterday's newspaper but there are spots in the world where newspapers are valuable as long as they hold together.

Consider the Island of Cuyo, one of the Philippines, 300 miles north of Manila. An island of 23,000 inhabitants and the only American newspaper that enters the island is the New Castle News, received by Miss Beaulah Heaton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Heaton of Northview avenue.

The Island of Cuyo is approximately 12,300 miles from the New Castle and by the time Miss Heaton gets today's copy of The News, you will be reading Christmas articles in your current edition.

The copy of The News that goes to Miss Heaton is used to its ultimate. It is first read by Miss Heaton and any Americans who might be with her. Then it goes into the library of the mission school in which she teaches, for the older girls to read.

After everybody who can read it has read it, the paper goes to the youngsters of the kindergarten who cut out the pictures and the advertisement cuts for use in their scrap books.

Miss Heaton is by long odds the subscriber of The News farthest away from the point of publication. Other subscribers are located in Europe, in South America and in other far-away spots but none quite so far as Miss Heaton. If she gets this edition of The News before Christmas the staff of The News wants to send her and her school the very best of the season's greetings.

British Cabinet Debates Crisis

Emergency Meeting Is Called By Prime Minister Baldwin

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 27.—Gravely concerned over recent events in the Spanish civil war, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin called a sudden, emergency meeting of his cabinet today and debated with his ministers means of keeping Britain from being dragged into a dangerous crisis.

The cabinet met for a full hour in the prime minister's room in the House of Commons, and was understood to have reviewed the Spanish situation in its entirety, including consideration of the question of granting belligerent rights to the rebels.

Great secrecy enshrouded the meeting, but its importance was apparent. The ministers were summoned unexpectedly, Minister of Labor Brown being forced to travel all night from Liverpool, where he had been scheduled to attend a civic function today. Other ministers likewise were compelled to cancel previous engagements.

Voronoff Claims A New Treatment In Rejuvenation

(International News Service)

MENTON, France, Nov. 27.—A new system of rejuvenation, consisting of a series of injections of young blood taken from healthy youths, is said to have been perfected here by Dr. Alexander Voronoff, brother of Serge-Vonoroff, internationally known scientist and monkey gland specialist.

Men of all ages have been writing thousands of letters from all over the world to Dr. Voronoff at his home at the Chateau Grimaldi here, inquiring about details of the new treatment.

When a subject arrives at the clinic, Dr. Voronoff first of all gives him a thorough general examination to see if it is possible to apply the treatment. After an extremely minute analysis of the blood, it is learned in what general category he falls.

Then blood donors with corresponding characteristics have to be found, and this sometimes requires the elimination of more than 100 young persons each of whose blood is subjected to most delicate chemical experiments.

The blood is then treated scientifically before it is infused in the patient so that it will act quickly in aiding him to recover his natural forces. The quantity of the injection is remarkably small, but it acts like a vaccine and is claimed to be almost always successful.

Many Trees Are Planted In State

First Nursery Established Thirty-Four Years Ago By Commonwealth

HAVE SCIENTIFIC MANAGEMENT NOW

HARRISBURG, Nov. 27. — The State Department of Forests and Waters has distributed 178,000,000 trees for reforesting idle lands in Pennsylvania since 1902 when the first nursery was established at Mont Alto, Secretary James F. Bogardus revealed today.

As a result of this wide distribution there are many thrifty tree plantations in the state today on land which was once eroding rapidly and causing economic distress to many, Secretary Bogardus said.

The department, he pointed out, is constantly conducting special studies of plantation failures to improve methods of establishing and managing reforestation projects. These studies and investigations have resulted in better and more successful forest plantations in Pennsylvania. The scope of these forest research projects cover the life of forest trees from the time they leave the nursery, during the planting operations, their subsequent protection and management in youth, and up to the age when they are due for thinning and final harvest. Plots have been established in many plantations over the state where records are being obtained concerning the kinds of soil favorable and unfavorable, local conditions and the growth the trees are making.

Today, with the four state forest tree nurseries operating on a production basis of 18,000,000 trees annually, every precaution is taken to guard against failure. Raising trees is a long term proposition; when it is considered that the crop rotation in forest management may extend anywhere from 40 to 125 years, the need of extra caution is apparent. Reforestation studies are essential to guard against possible sources of failure if planted trees are to grow thriftily and rapidly from seedling age to saw log size.

Secretary Bogardus said that the reforestation program in Pennsylvania does not consist merely of digging holes in the ground, planting seedlings in the holes and then forgetting about the plantations until they have become mature trees. The present reforestation program involves the most improved methods of establishing forest plantations, managing them properly to prevent injury or loss, and finally, harvesting the timber in such a way that successive continuous crops instead of one crop, may be obtained.

W. P. I. Freshman Wins $500 Prize For Ingenuity

(International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 27.—A contrivance made at a cost of one dollar and designed to save work, as well as many trips outdoors during the cold winter nights, won the annual $500 Yankee Ingenuity prize of Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

The winner, Franklin D. Hayes, North Brookfield, a freshman at W. P. I., assisted his father in caring for the greenhouse on the elder Hayes' farm at North Brookfield. One of the most important duties was to keep the temperature in the greenhouses regulated.

Odds and ends about the farm including some zinc, sheet iron, a bicycle spoke, two clock wheels, Christmas tree bulbs, an electric door bell, a toy electric transformer and the base of a vacuum cleaner formed his materials.

Of these he constructed the apparatus, which lit a series of the various colored bulbs, so indicating rises and drops in temperature.

Passing of the signal from one light to another indicated a rise or fall of about three degrees. The youthful inventor explained the reason for this was expansion and contraction of the zinc.

If the temperature falls below the determined danger point, the device lights a lamp and starts a blower (the base of the vacuum cleaner), which creating a forced draft under the heater raises the temperature back to a safe point.

"Safest Driver" Tells His Rules

Has Never Had An Accident During Over Twenty Years Truck Driving

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—The secret of driving safely was explained here by Edward Klein, 43-year-old mail truck driver who recently was crowned the "safest commercial driver in Western Pennsylvania" by virtue of his record of 20 years and the 10 days of driving without an accident or traffic violation.

"There are some common practices of drivers that cause most mishaps," Klein said.

"Probably the worst driver is the one that snakes through traffic. Then, you must watch out for the fellow who always wants to beat the light, generally continuing through a red barrier.

"Two other hazards are made by drivers who will pull their parked cars from the curb without looking to see if traffic is coming, and the one who creep abreast of your machine and blow the horn expecting you in a split second to be out of their way."

Through his long years of driving both in city traffic and in suburban areas, Klein has never forsaken caution for speed. And he has never missed a connection through his caution.

He travels approximately 50,000 miles yearly and is so dependable that many times he completes duties ahead of time to help fellow drivers, Edward C. Emmerling, post-office superintendent of motor vehicles and Klein's "boss' said.

Twenty-five drivers in the district who did not have as many years to their credit but had good records, were awarded special certificates by the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, sponsor of the contest. Klein was given an engraved loving cup.

RED-HAIRED GIRL RUNS ROBBER GANG

(International News Service)

VIENNA—The arrest of 16-year-old, flaming-haired Maria Hadlacek, has revealed her to be the ringleader of a gang of dangerous young criminals who have for some time past been terrorizing pedestrians in Maerz Park, situated in the Vienna suburb of Hernals.

Operating in the park, her well-organized gang, which consisted of unemployed boys between the ages of 13 and 18, carried out its activities after dusk.

The system was to way-lay an unaccompanied pedestrian as he or she walked through the park. The unsuspecting victim would suddenly be confronted by a small and shabbily-dressed boy, who begged for alms.

While the person fumbled in pocket or purse for some coppers, three or four youngsters would leap out from nearby bushes, throw the person to the ground and rapidly search him for money and valuables.

DIES AT 105 OR 110, DID NOT KNOW WHICH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—Joseph Miceni went to his death here recently without knowing whether he was 105 or 110 years old.

He did not remember that when he came to Pittsburgh from the little town of Armenti, Italy, some 60-odd years ago he was more than 45. How much older he didn't know.

For the past 18 years he lived with the family of Frank Marion here. Mrs. Marion said her mother had come from the same town in Italy as Miceni.

Many a day, she added, the children would sit around and listen to him spin tales of the days when he served under Garibaldi in the war for a united Italy. He would talk while he sat in his room mending clothes, one of the favorite occupations of his last years.

Sometimes he would walk along the busy streets of Oakland and beam with smiles when those who knew him would stop him to say truthfully: "Mr. Miceni, no one would know you were a day over 70."

Miceni is known to have a daughter but old friends said they believe she is now more than 65 and living in Italy.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS FIND HUNTING COSTLY

LANCASTER, O.—Deputy Sheriffs Dudley Crider and Leo Fox knew a likely-looking farm they wanted to hunt, but to play safe they looked up the ownership, the Federal Land Bank of Louisville, and obtained written permission.

Returning to the county jail after a successful afternoon of hunting, they found a warrant for their arrest on charges of trepass awaiting them, filed by Floyd Wolford, who lives on the farm.

Jake Defenbaugh, justice of the peace, found them guilty despite their arguments that Wolford had neither paid rent nor signed a lease for the property. They will appeal.

My New York By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—She's the 1937-model movie star. Her brakes work and there's something under the hood besides empty cylinders.

The prophets say her type will be the vogue from now on. They may be right. If the factories can turn out products like Olivia DeHavilland, it would be a shame to go back to horse-and-buggy days—when it was necessary to send a boy to the circulating library on the corner whenever a publicity picture showing the star "among her books she loves so well" was about to be taken.

Olivia was, as I have told you in a recent column, born in Tokio. She came to America at the age of one and a half. Since then she has been a resident of the state of California. My recent tea-time visit was so interesting I thought you would like to hear more about this extraordinary girl.

"New York is a wonderful playground," she said. "It is full of playboys and playgirls and penthouses and sables and glittering frou-frou. Hollywood is a workingwoman's town. Straid. Sedate. Hollywood is a 9 o'clock town. It's a place where values remain constant. But New York—?"

She raised her unplucked eyebrows. Of course she was kidding, but not much. She was really reversing the old delusions about Hollywood, for to her Hollywood is a workingwoman's town.

And the more you talk to Olivia the more you become aware that here is something brand-new in movie stars. Not only has she looks and brains but even good taste. She does not cosmetize herself like a Schiaparelli bisque mannequin on a spree. She does not doze when the conversation veers momentarily away from Olivia DeHavilland.

Men?

"Men are unnecessary right now. I was never in love in my life. I never met a man who seemed to me worth chucking my career for. And I would chuck it."

She grinned. Miss DeHavilland knows how to grin. That, in Hollywood, is a great asset. For they say that although you can take a street gamin and make her into the great star with onyx bathtubs and fifty super-super pictures behind her, you can always tell where she came from when she starts to grin. And you hear the rumble of the elevated trains and get the echolalias of cold-water flats when she laughs out-right.

Olivia, connected with the DeHavilland family of English airplane manufacturers, merchants and public-school masters, did not have to employ a tutor to show her the trick with the fork and the peas when she ascended to glory in Hollywood.

She looks a little like Janet Gaynor, off the screen, except that her hair is not red, she has no freckles and she is twenty years old. She thought she was going to be a school-teacher". But once out of the ugly duckling stage it became obvious that she would never succeed as a schoolmarm; the students wouldn't be able to keep their minds on their lessons if she taught any class above the fifth grade.

She can read. The press-agent who towed me into the presence had presented her with a copy of A. E. Housman's poems, which she wanted at the moment more than anything else in the world. The press-agent said this saved the company money, for a copy of a book of poetry costs less than a case of gin.

We got back to men.

"Now take Errol Flynn," she said. Mr. Flynn plays opposite her in "The Charge of the Light Brigade" and also played with her in "Captain Blood," their first big hit. "Errol's grand. He doesn't care about anything or anybody. He really doesn't care. He thinks I despise him but I don't. I think he's grand.

"Errol is the only actor I ever knew who has had a romantic life. He was down in the South Seas on a copra plantation. He didn't see a white man for months and months on end. When the natives went haywire on Saturday night and carved each other up with knives, Errol operated and took off an arm or a leg as the occasion demanded. There's romance for you."

"Is Mr. Flynn your idea of a man?"

"Now listen," said Miss DeHavilland. "Don't start that. I know what you're driving at. Errol is married. (Remember, this was before the break.) He's very much married to Lili Damita. And even if he weren't, I'd never think of him romantically. But I like him, purely platonically. He's beautiful and he's beautifully unprincipled. He does what he wants to do. Did you read his article in Cosmopolitan?"

I allowed that I did.

Olivia repeated: "Men are unnecessary to me now. Don't mention any men when you write about me. The only men I know are engaged to my girl friends. As I was saying to Errol on the set the other day. . . ."

HOW TO RELIEVE ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from your druggist a little Ice-Mint and apply once or twice daily. This cooling and soothing preparation quickly relieves the itching and soreness, stops pain and aids in healing the effected parts. Try it. Ice-Mint is highly recommended and is easy and pleasant to use. It seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy that is so easy to use may be had at such small cost.

CHINA SUPPLIES WORLD WITH MOST OF ITS ANTIMONY

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI—The world's supply of antimony—the brittle metallic substance used in the manufacture of gunpowder—is almost entirely monopolized by China. This is shown by an investigation into the country's antimony production.

It has revealed that the world's annual production of the ore is approximately 25,000 tons—of which 80 per cent comes from China.

The province of Huan, which alone exports 20,000 tons of antimony to foreign countries, is responsible for 90 per cent of China's total annual output.

Hunan's annual antimony export to Great Britain is between 4,000 and 5,000 tons. To the United States it sends between 5,000 and 6,000 tons, to Germany more than 3,000 tons and 5,000 tons each to France, Japan, Holland and Sweden.

"I hear you wouldn't let Russ kiss you last night on account of his passion."

"Yes, his passion for onions."

COGENT REASONING

"I dreamed last night that—er—ah—I proposed to you. I wonder what this is a sign of?"

"It's a sign that you've more sense when you are asleep than when you are awake."

Eight Hour Day For WPA Projects

Change Made To Permit Men To Get In All Hours During Bad Weather

NO CHANGE IN MONTHLY HOURS

Eight hour days for WPA workers in the future will be the plan instead of the present six hour day, according to J. Vale Downie, director of district 14. There will be no change in the total hours to be worked monthly.

Mr. Downie's statement follows:

"Effective with the current pay period, all WPA jobs will work eight hours per day, not more than 40 hours per week and regularly 114 hours per month.

"Three committees of workers came to the district office to protest the adoption of the new plan; but these protests were the outgrowth of a misunderstanding of the purpose, or effect, of the new winter schedule.

"It is not our intention to abandon the six hour day in district 1", said J. V. Downie, director of the district, today. "The fact is we are working only 114 hours per month thereas a regular ix hour day would result in 130 hours.

"The sole purpose of the new schedule is to build up reserve work time at the beginning of each pay period so that time lost later because of bad weather will not cut down the worker's wage below the security maximum for the period.

"Under a regulation issued from Harrisburg on August 10 the credited time provision was withdrawn. It is now impossible to pay the worker for any time he does not work. If bad weather prevents the operation of projects the full 114 hours per month the workers pay will be short in proportion, although he will be given an opportunity to make up the loss later if he continues with the same project group and it is found possible to operate that group extra time.

"We expect that there will be days during the winter when we cannot work. We are therefore doing everything we can to make the most of the days that are fit to work by lengthening them to eight hours. We shall also work Saturday when necessary to make up lost time. Our procedure permits us to work eight hours in a single day. We are merely taking advantage of this to do something that we believe will be for the best interests of the worker and which many workers have asked us to do.

"No workers will be compelled to work eight hours if he prefers to quit at the end of six hours; but he will not be paid for the time he refuses to work nor can he be given an opportunity to make up that time. Where transportation of workers to jobs by trucks to highway jobs is involved trucks will go to and from projects on the eight hour schedule. Workers who drop their tools at the end of six hours will have to await the return of truck at the end of the eight hour day."

Order Repayment Of $606.90 To Pottery

Interstate Commerce Commission Issues Order On Refunding Of Sum

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—The Shenango Pottery Company has won a decision from the Interstate Commerce Commission under which five railroads are directed to pay the New Castle firm $606.90 as repayment of excessive rates charged on shipments of industrial sand.

The Shenango Pottery instituted proceedings by appearing before the I. C. C. and protesting that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and other carriers had charged unfair rates on sand shipments. The I. C. C. in its ruling just handed down, found the complaint justified and directed the railroads to make reparation payments to the pottery company. The reparations represent over-charges plus six per cent interest.

The I. C. C. ordered the five railroads involved to make the following payments to the pottery company:

Pennsylvania railroad and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, $407.46; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, and New York Central, $112; Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, and the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad company, $18; Baltimore & Ohio and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, $41.24; Pennsylvania railroad, Indiana Harbor Belt railroad company, and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, $27.20.

ELLWOOD HI HOLDS IRONTON TO 0-0

Sixteen Gridders Play Final Game Of Careers In Great Contest Thursday

LARGE CROWD SEES THRILLING GAME

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 27.—An inspired Ellwood City High team rose to great heights Thanksgiving day to battle a highly favored Ironton, O., team 0-0 at Lincoln field in as thrilling a game as one could hope to see.

True, it was a scoreless game, but unusual in its type. Both teams made great offensive drives that was stopped only in the shadow of the goal posts. There were threats made in each period of the game to keep the crowd on edge. It was as fine a game of offensive and defensive football as one could witness. All statistics show a close, hard fought game throughout. The first downs were 14-12 for Ellwood and the yardage through scrimmage, 178 to 121. The offense of the visitors was somewhat hampered by the Pennsylvania rules in which a passer is required to be five yards behind the line of scrimmage. In Ohio the passer can be anywhere behind the line of scrimmage. Ironton was penalized five yards for infraction of this rule a number of times.

The Ellwood Wolverines came out of the game with glory. Ironton was a decided favorite to cop the verdict. But the locals surprised their own followers with a determined offensive and stand of their own. They received a real thrill when on the first play of the game following the kickoff, Jones raced 70 yards for a touchdown, but he was ruled as stepping out of bounds after a gain of 27 yards. The visitors were kept back on their haunches throughout the initial period as the locals got to the 20, 17 and 10-yard lines before relinquishing the ball on downs. Ellwood controlled the situation throughout the first half as they rolled up 11 first downs to 6 for the visitors. Ironton got beyond the 20 only once in this time.

The second half was a see-saw affair with both teams making serious bids to score. Ironton opened up with a clever passing attack in the third quarter that was only stopped on the ten-yard line, with an interception. This was their most serious threat of the game. Several long runs were made by Terry in midfield, to make matters fairly even in offensive football with the Wolverines.

Just before the final whistle the locals had launched another offensive drive with passing and running that was counting up many yards. The game ended as Jones caught a 20-yard pass from Young to place the ball on Ironton's 25.

The game was clean and hard fought. It would be improper to pick out any individual stars in the Ellwood lineup. They played their best game of the season as they displayed vicious blocking and tackling. It ended the careers for 16 players on the squad who all saw action. Eight of these were first stringers. The list included: Jim Flanagan, Bill Daufen, Harold Young, Mike Perry, Capt. Joe Pishioneri, "Russia" Funari, Bob Koah, Bill Young Albert Bettoni, Eugene Sam, Don Marshall, Harry O'Brien, Charles Rupert, and Milton Young. All wore blue and white ribbons in their helmets to denote this fact.

Following the game the members of both squads with the managers were treated to a lunch in the gymnasium. Local fans are proud of the tribute paid the community for its fine sportsmanship and hospitality by the visiting players, coaches, fans and school officials.

BOUGHT WIFE HAT; TROUBLE HIT HIM

BELGRADE—Marko Iglitch, a Zagrab tailor, has learned that it is dangerous to favor one of his wives at the expense of the others.

For years Marcia, Anica, and Danica, the tailor's three wives, lived happily together.

But one day Marko brought a new hat for Marica, his youngest and prettiest wife. When he got home he heard a violent quarrel going on in the kitchen.

After words came blows, and the three wives began to beat Marko. They gave him a black eye, bit his ears, scratched his face and arms and tore his clothes. Marko eventually escaped and ran to the police station.

Wrong Jobs Cause Many Mental Cases

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—Wrong jobs cause fully half the mental cases in hospitals and institutions, according to psychologist Ralph Strathmore.

Occupational maladjustment, brought on by what Strathmore termed the "trial and error" method of job selection, causes the unhappiness which underlies many mental cases, he said.

"The cost of providing mental treatment in public institutions is only part of the huge economic loss traced to the widespread occupational maladjustment," Strathmore declared.

"Equally burdensome in dollars and cents is the inefficiency of millions of workers and executives engaged in positions which they have not the qualifications to fill. This condition has been greatly intensified during the depression and as neurasthenia and nervousness increase, the havoc from unemployment and unsuitable vocations grows greater, so that if times do not get much better soon we will need more asylums for the mental cases."

Correct This Sentence: "These are free Americans," said the customs official, "and we mustn't humiliate or insult them."

Omaha Physician Suicide Victim

Believe Dr. Edward Katskee, 34, Deliberately Killed Himself By Cocaine Overdose

RECORDED FEELINGS AS DEATH STRUCK

(International News Service)

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 27.—Police and relatives differed today over the death of Dr. Edward Katskee, 34-year-old physician.

Police listed his death as suicide, but his family declared he died a "martyr to science."

The young physician, dying of an overdose of cocaine, left a dramatic record of his reactions scrawled over the wall of his office where his body was found late yesterday by his father.

Tells Of Reactions

The notes, written in pencil, crayon and ink, at first in a firm hand and finally in shaky, scrawling letters, told of convulsions, growing paralysis and inability to speak, and included instructions for those who might be called on to treat narcotic victims and sardonically warned them to "take careful note because I won't be repeating these experiments."

An attendant at the office building revealed that Wednesday night the physician had called him in several times to assist in his "research" — to test the physician's reflexes and adjust a blood pressure band.

Police called the death suicide, declaring the medical man would have known the fatal results of an overdose of cocaine. But his father said the young physician had conducted many such experiments before and evidently was unable to give himself an antidote in time.

No Action Taken On Proposal To Throttle Courts

A. F. Of L. Passes Up Proposal To Limit Power Of Supreme Court

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 27.—Passing over four resolutions limiting supreme court power to invalidate acts of congress, the American Federation of Labor today dodged the issue and postponed all action.

All proposals calling for a definite stand on the question of amending the constitution to safeguard social legislation were referred by the Federation convention to the A. F. of L. executive council. This body, presumably is to study the question and report on it next year.

A substitute for all the resolutions was drafted by the convention resolutions committee, and adopted by the delegates here today after some debate. This was in the form of a policy statement, and declared:

"If there is to be federal legislation covering labor and living standards; if a broad program of social legislation is to be effected, such legislation must either be framed to meet with the approval of the supreme court, or the power to declare such legislation unconstitutional must be limited through a constitutional amendment."

This action was a departure from the stand adopted by the Federation last year. In the 1935 convention at Atlantic City, spurred on by the now suspended John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers, the Federation directed its executive council to prepare legislation calling for a constitutional amendment limiting the power of the high court.

Modern Tax-Free Residential City Planned In Rome

Tax Exemption Feature To Be Used To Stimulate Building

(International News Service)

ROME, Nov. 27.—American capital is soon to help unearth "the glory that was Rome," and incorporate the classic ruins in the construction of a modern, twenty-five-year tax-free, residential city.

The project was revealed by Herbert A. Nelson of Chicago, Secretary of the National Real Estate Board.

The new city is to be the first of a group of suburbs designed to make Rome a decentralized capital akin to London.

Plans for the suburb's construction involve the unearthing and incorporation in the new city of the ruins of Alba Lunga, famous in the time of the Caesars. For this reason the new city has been christened Alba Littoria.

"Amazed" at the mammoth building construction programs being carried out in Italy and in other relatively poor European countries, officials of the National Real Estate Board sent Mr. Nelson to investigate.

After an extensive tour of the principal European cities, Nelson expressed the opinion that Italian construction excelled all others for style and economy.

The American enterprise in Italy is also highly favored by the twenty-five-year tax exemption law for new buildings. Designed to stimulate building construction, the law expires this year, but it has been protracted for areas in the outskirts of Rome.

Because extension of the tax exemption law excludes the construction of large apartment houses and favors the two-story type dwelling, this type will be erected in "American" Alba Littoria.

American experts are now studying technical phases of the financing of the enterprise with regard to the Johnston Act.

The chief cause of divorce is the mating of two people who won't play ball if they can't pitch.

French Inventor Of Steam Auto Is Nearly Jailed

(International News Service)

MOREZ, France, Nov. 27.—Paul Jacquemain, 79, inventor of the first steam-drive automobile, revealed that an irate magistrate gave him his choice of destroying the machine or going to jail.

"This is how it happened," he said, "I tried out my invention for the first time one night in September, 1874, on the road from Morez to Morbier, which is entirely uphill.

"The boiler made such a noise, whistling and banging and sending up sparks, that it wakened everybody along the route. I finally got to Morbier, however, turned around, and coasted back to Morez.

"The next day I received a summons from the magistrate. I was delighted, thinking the town was arranging some sort of celebration in honor of my invention. Instead, the magistrate, Jules Girod, told me I had invented a devilish engine, which by its looks and by its noise constituted a public menace.

'He then said,

"'Either destroy the damn thing or I'll send you to jail.'

"So I went home and dismantled my machine. I finally arranged everything . . . but that is the story of the first trial of a steam-driven automobile."

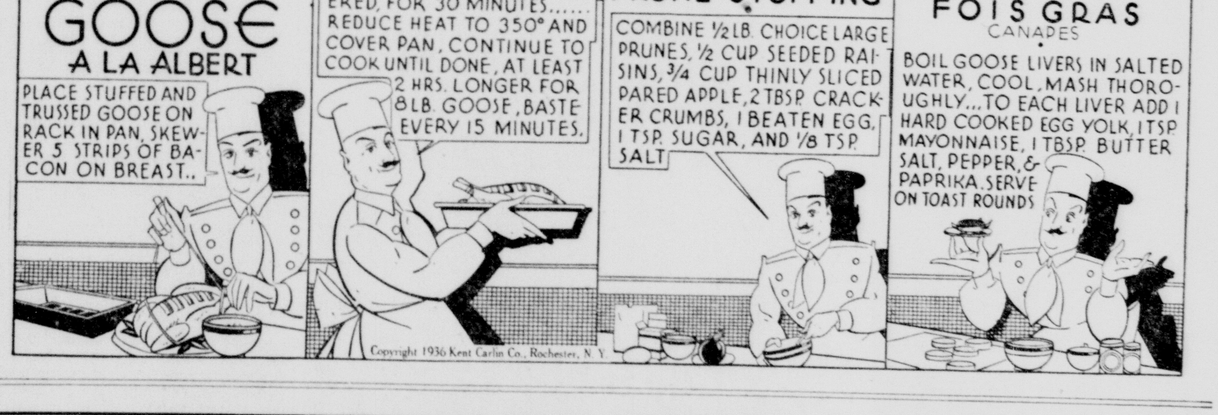

When the war broke out in 1914, Jacquemain, who was then 54, enlisted and served all four years, being slightly wounded on one occasion.

BLACK LOCUST AID TO FARMER

HARRISBURG—Stands of black locust found throughout the forest areas of Pennsylvania and on farmers' wood lots are proving to be of exceptional value this year to the farmers for manufacturing fence rails and insulator pins, Deputy Secretary W. J. B. Winters, of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

The recent demand for insulator pins manufactured from this wood has made profitable employment for the farmers during the "off" months, Deputy Secretary Winters said.

ON A FIELD partially covered by snow and with biting cold weather prevailing New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team defeated Midland high at Taggart stadium on Thanksgiving Day 19 to 0. The smallest turkey day crowd in recent years witnessed the game, huddled under blankets and heavy wraps.

Stanley Kominic, Paul Small and Leroy Cox playing their final game for New Castle high scored the three touchdowns. New Castle was in scoring position at least four times without tallying. Midland high failed to offer much in way of opposition. The Bridenbaughmen piled up 17 first downs and held the invaders from the Beaver Valley to four.

It was the final game for 16 of the New Castle boys and they all played fine football. In fact it was one of the best games played by the "Canes" this year, the boys really "turning on the heat".

Kominic Tallies.

The fans were late in getting to th game because of the cold weather and had hardly settled down under the blankets when New Castle rang up the first touchdown. The locals elected to receive and Mort took the ball for New Castle on the local 40. From this spot it was a steady 60-yard march down the field for the first marker with Stanley Kominic driving over from the eight-yard line. Roussos converted the extra point by placement. In the drive down the snowy gridiron Kominic did the most of the ground gaining with Charley "Stormy" Mort getting his share and Cox adding several yards.

New Castle agian elected to receive and Mort again took the ball and came back to the Midland 34 before being downed. It looked for a minute or two as if the mighty Mort would get away from Corak, the Midland halfback, but he was hauled down after a beautiful run of about 50 yards.

Paul Small Scores.

From here it was just a case of too much New Castle power again and Kominic and Mort turning in some fine gains until the Midland 15-yard line was reached and here Leroy Cox took the ball and started for the goal line. Just before he reached the final stripe the ball flew out of his hands and the ever alert Paul Small, the New Castle star left guard, grabbed it out of the air and raced over the goal line. Really the play was so real that it looked as if it had been rehearsed. Truly this was one of the high spots of the game.

Roussos failed to kick the extra point by placement and New Castle led 13 0 as the first period ended. New Castle kicked off to Midland but the Lomond coached boys could not gain much through the big New Castle front wall.

Scoring Threats Halted.

The second period began with New Castle having the ball on the Midland 42-yard line. Cox picked up four yards and made it a first down. Mort ripped off 10 more for a first down. Cox, Kominic and Mort carried the ball in succession for another first down on the Midland 10-yard line. Cox tried a pass to Covelli after two line plays and it failed to work. Midland took the ball on downs on their own 7-yard line. McNeil promptly kicked out of danger.

McNeil booted out to Mort on the Midland 39-yard line and the New Castle boys went right down to the Midland goal line again but failed to puncture the visitors' line. After the second attempt by New Castle failed, Coach Bridenbaugh sent in 11 new men. The backfield now had Palkovitch at full, Sovesky and Micaletti at the halves and Chip at quarterback. McNeil kicked out to New Castle on the Midland 41-yard line and there was just time for two or three plays and the first half ended.

Leroy Cox Scores.

Midland kicked off to New Castle to start the third period. Nocera took the kick and was downed on the New Castle 42-yard line. Mort picked up four and Cox made 11 for a first down. The entire New Castle starting eleven was back in the game. Cox and Mort combined to make it another first down on the Midland 20-yard line. New Castle lost the ball on downs. McNeil dropped back to punt and it was blocked by Small and recovered for New Castle by Dommie Covelli on the Midland 13-yard line. In three plays with Leroy Cox carrying the ball New Castle had their third and final tally of the afternoon. Roussos again failed to convert the extra point. It was 19 to 0.

New Castle kicked off to Midland at the resumption of play. The Midlanders uncorked their first first down on a run by Corak. McNeil fumbled and Louie Leonard recovered for New Castle on the Midland 45-yard line. New Castle had the ball on the Midland 30-yard line as the third period ended. Plenty of New Castle subs drifted into the game during the third period.

A pass, Kominic to Cox, at the start of the fourth period was knocked down. Midland took the ball on downs on their own 30-yard line. McNeil made five yards. Corak picked up five more for a first down. McNeil after a few more plays at line kicked to New Castle out of bounds on the New Castle 22.

Nice Quick Kick.

Mumford pulled one of the prettiest plays of the year when he caught the Midland team napping with a quick kick that sent the ball down to the Midland 3-yard line. Alston made four yards for Midland and then Corak picked up 35 yards almost getting away for a touchdown. Two Midland passes failed to work and McNeil booted to New Castle on the 28-yard line. The subs began pouring into the game, Bridenbaugh intent on letting every one of the boys play a few minutes of the final game. New Castle had a third and fourth team on the field for the last few minutes of the fourth and final period.

Bouquets for the playing of Stanley Kominic, Leroy Cox and Charley Mort in their final game for New Castle. On the line our nominations go to Paul Small and Louie Leonard, both boys towers of strength on the left side of the line. Vargo played a great game at center for his final one of his high school career. So did Dom Covelli play a fine game at end for his final gesture.

This was the fifth class AA victory of the year for New Castle.

Book Lighter Grapplers Here

None Of Wrestlers On Monday's Docket Weighs 200 Pounds

TWO FOREIGN MAT MEN ON CALENDAR

Heretofore the total advoirdupois of the grapplin' gents who have catapaulted each other high, low and on some occasions through the Arena Garden ropes, have been around 1,600 or more pounds, but Monday night there'll be only 1,466 pounds on the bare sole represented, which means probably faster action. Not one of the men of grip and hold weighs 200 pounds. A couple of them came from Italy, according to reports and the rest from this country.

Those who have come to this country to grapple are Joe Parelli and Angelo Martini. The former weighs 187, likewise Martini. The former is said to have been the middleweight champion of Italy. He is scheduled to tackle Eddie Malone, who holds forth in Tennessee. Malone weighs two pounds less. Martini is scheduled to take on Babe Caddock, of New York. The latter weighs three pounds more than Martini.

However, the bout that looks as though it will contain plenty of action will be the last one on the card—Leo Wallick, of Youngstown, 180, vs. Tony Marchoni, of Boston, 182 pounds. Wallick made a hit by dumping Joe Banaski. Marchoni has been a consistent performer here. He has not won all his bouts but has worked hard and wants to beat Wallick.

Morrie Suber, a local wrestler, will oppose Hap Hauser, of Minneapolis. Morrie will weigh less than Houser, who will be making his local debut. Suber is in good condition, the result of a campaign throughout bordering states and outdoor labor. He is training daily and expects that, if he wins, he will obtain a higher place on the mat cards conducted here by Peter Askounes.

Ross-Jannazzo In Title Bout

Barney Ross Risks Welterweight Championship In New York Bout Tonight

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Lady Luck never has had to smile twice to get an answering wink from Izzy Jannazzo for Izzy has been on friendly terms with that fickle dame since the day he was born.

In fact, most of the cauliflower gentry insist Izzy was born under a horseshoe and with a four-leaf clover in his hand. And that same gentry insist he will need the horseshoe rather than the clover in his hand tonight when he steps into the ring against Barney Ross in a 15-round battle for the welterweight championship of the world.

Ross Favored.

Most of the fight mob say Izzy doesn't belong in the same ring with the champion and are laying 6 to 1 or more against him. Some of them, like Abe Lyman, the band leader, are laying 3 to 1 Barney will knock him out.

These scornful optimists would do well to pause and consider Izzy's luck—and ability. Since he started boxing a few semesters back, good fortune has dogged Izzy's steps. He took a preliminary boy's place as a sub in his first pro fight. Everybody thought he'd be beaten. But he won.

A good fighter would turn up with a bad hand and Izzy would be shoved into his place—to get licked, of course—but he'd win. And he's kept on winning and climbing.

Ohioan Leads Nation's Scorers

Leading the nation's scorers, Norman Schoen, halfback of Baldwin-Wallace college in Berea, O., has amassed a total of 117 points while his team made 330. This is the second successive year in which a player in the Cleveland district has led the country. Ray Zeh of Western Reserve winning the honor last year by registering 116 points.

Penn State Gridders Give Thrill To Fans

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 27.—Penn State football fans may not have witnessed the Lion's most successful season during the 1936 campaign, but they were treated to thrills uncommon in major games when the Blue and White played Pittsburgh, Penn and Bucknell.

Trailing by only two touchdowns in the third period of the Pitt game, the Lions had worked the ball to the Panther 15 yard line. To the astonishment of spectators, Harry Harrison, 144 pound halfback, stayed far out on the Penn State left end after a wide reverse play to the right. Although thousands of fans saw the Nittany player on this "sleeper" play, he caught the Panther team unaware and scored on a perfect pass from Windy Wear.

In the Pennsylvania game, State produced that football rarity—the touchdown on a kickoff. Harrison was again the hero of the moment. The former West Philadelphia high school star, performing within a short distance of his home and old school, darted 94 yards through the bewildered Quaker team. It was the longest run on Franklin Field this year.

Proving that this kickoff return was no fluke, last week Johnny Patrick, another fleet sophomore halfback, returned Bucknell's opening kickoff the same distance—94 yards—for a touchdown. This play, made possible by some efficient crossblocking on the part of the ten other Lion players, nearly worked on one other occasion this season. Against Pittsburgh, Harrison took a kickoff and streaked through the whole Pitt team. With a clear field ahead he stumbled and fell after a 50 yard runback.

With only one backfield player weighing over 160 pounds, Coach Bob Higgins found it necessary to resort to old time trick plays in many games this year. The ancient Statue of Liberty play was used with much success all season. State's "midget" backs—Harrison, Denise, Wear, O'Hora and Metro—were all well drilled on "hidden ball" plays and fooled many opponents with wide, sweeping reverses.

Pitt Defeats Tech 31 To 14

Pennsylvania Hands Cornell 14 To 6 Defeat, Goldberg Stars For Panthers

By PAUL R. ALLERUP
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27.—Three Pennsylvania college football teams stood out today as possible participants in one or another of the post-season "Bowl" contests following the state's final look at regularly scheduled contests yesterday.

Pennsylvania, with its 14-6 triumph over Cornell at Philadelphia, in one of the most ivy-clad of the many traditional Thanksgiving Day games, climaxed a brilliant season which saw the red and blue count victories over Navy, Michigan, Princeton and Penn State, and may be considered when Rose Bowl bids are sent out.

Pitt Wins, 31 to 14

Pitt's Panthers wound up its campaign with a convincing 31-14 drubbing of Carnegie Tech here, and in view of its record for the '36 season, which includes victories over such titans as Nebraska, Ohio State and Notre Dame, is another likely candidate for tournament of roses action.

At Reading, Albright trampled unmercifully upon Muhlenberg, trouncing the visitors to the tune of 70 to 13. Despite the onesidedness of the score, however, the game was a fight from start to finish. Entering the third quarter with the almost insurmountable psychological disadvantage of being on the short end of a 57 to 0 tally, the Mules proved themselves a rarely courageous bunch by coming back to score two touchdowns.

In other final games Franklin-Marshall downed Gettysburg, 19-0, at Lancaster, and Ursinus defeated P. M. C., 12-6, at Chester.

Japanese art shown over here seems funny to Americans. None of it is ugly and depressing.

Fordham Loses To New York U., Alabama Wins

Washington Trips Washington State, Duke Takes Over North Carolina State

SCREWY SEASON COMES TO END

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Unless L. S. U. can and does put on a show against Tulane a Baton Rouge tomorrow, the great probability is that it will be Washington, of the Northwest, versus Alabama, of the deep South, for the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on January 1. This much was indicated, if not actually ordained during yesterday's holiday developments, when Washington earned the west coast bid with its 40 to 0 victory over Washington State, while Alabama finished its regular season unbeaten, with a 14 to 6 decision over Vanderbilt.

Fordham Tripped

There are, unfortunately, several kinds of finishes—and Fordham's was a well merited 7 to 6 defeat by New York university. This is, of course, the same Fordham that always starts for the Rose Bowl in the middle of November and winds up having its New Year's dinner at a nearby dairy lunch.

It hit its peak against Purdue, then faded into a tie with Georgia and finally lost yesterday for the first time, the winner being a team that once held Ohio State splendidly, the score being only 60 to 0. Even a New York sport writer can't make anything but hashed browned potatoes out of that. N. Y. U., I suspect, could have won yesterday by more than it did.

Alabama Good

Alabama, at that, was behind at the half by 6 to 0 and seems to be doing a little fading on its own. For further indications along this line, see the Georgia Tech score of the week before. However, nobody argues with an unbeaten record in a season as boisterous as this Alabama has one tie—with Tennessee—but in the light of later developments this looks better than L. S. U's tie with Texas, although the latter came back to score one of yesterday's upsets with its 7 to 0 game against Texas A. and M.

Anyhow, L. S. U. most assuredly remains in the running for national as well as Rose Bowl recognition and, if it takes Tulane tomorrow with proper empnasis, it might even get both.

How About Pitt?

Pitt, a one-defeat team, again rolled out all of its tremendous power with a 31 to 14 victory over Carnegie Tech, and Pennsylvania, having lost only to Yale, wound up its greatest season of a decade in beating Cornell, 14 to 6. It is interesting, though perhaps relatively unimportant, that two of the ranking one-defeat teams are Pitt and Marquette, both beaten by Duquesne.

Duke, figuring in the same class, went scoreless into the final period and then beat North Carolina State 13 to 0. Duke, they tell me, should never have lost to Tennessee, but the point is that it did. And if you are looking around for one-defeat teams, why go further than Minnesota against Northwestern—unless you care to go as far as Northwestern against Notre Dame.

It is, in fact, strictly a comical football season, which is why the Rose Bowl should be glad to have Alabama, never beaten there, or L. S. U., which has never been invited. Moreover, it can really congratulate itself on Washington Beaten by Minnesota and tied by Stanford, the Huskies showed yesterday that they are just coming on to their best at a time when they'll be able to use it.

Gardner Attends League Session At Pittsburgh

Charlerci Looks To Be 1936 Champions Of Class AA Football League

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of athletics at senior high, is in Pittsburgh today attending a meeting of the W. P. I. A. L. football committee at which time the 1936 championship will be decided upon or a post-season game arranged for Saturday, December 5, at the Pitt stadium.

But the feeling here is that Charleroi will get the nod from the committee and that New Castle and McKeesport will be tied for second place when the final figures are arrived at.

Yesterday Monongahela and Donora tied at 7-7. This upset the New Castle works. Monon high had to win to give New Castle a chance. Beaver Falls high came through with a 20 to 7 victory to help the New Castle cause.

McKeesport walloped Clairton 21 to 0 to stay in the trophy race.

Aspinwall lost to South Fayette high in the class B championship game yesterday 20 to 7 on a snow-swept gridiron.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Preparations for the twelfth annual East-West Shrine football game, featuring the nation's graduating college stars, got under way at San Francisco yesterday with the appointment of Andy Kerr of Colgate, and Dick Hanley, formerly of Northwestern, as coaches of the East squad. The game will be played in Kezar Stadium, at San Francisco, New Year's Day. The proceeds go to the Shriners' hospital for crippled children. Orrin Hollingberry of Washington State, and Percy Locey, University of Oregon athletic director, will coach the West squad.

Ray Trail, of Schenectady, N. Y., high school, retained the national interscholastic cross-country championship at Newark, N. J., yesterday over a wind-swept 2½ mile Branch Brook park course. He won by 40 yards from Walter Sterner, of Chester, Pa., high school, but his time was five seconds behind his record-breaking effort of 1935. Cletus Stamper, of Nott Terrace high school, Schenectady, N. Y., was third, and Robert Neal, of Lansford, Pa., high school, was fourth.

H. T. Neimann, Oklahoma University polo player, was killed in a game with New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. M., yesterday. The game was discontinued after the accident with New Mexico Military Institute leading 3 to 0, in the second chukker.

Army And Navy Play Saturday

Army Cadets Favored To Upset Naval Academy Boys In Annual Fall Classic

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—From a standpoint of color and tradition, aged in the football keg for nearly half a century, the Army-Navy football game at Sesqui Stadium, Philadelphia, tomorrow takes precedence over all others, as the season goes into the grand finale.

Even Rose Bowl significance to be found in the Louisiana State-Tulane contest is over-shadowed by the All-Service classic which was started in 1890 with seldom a dull moment since.

This time 100,000 spectators will be on hand for what probably will be a customarily close struggle, and, I think, with the Army eventual winner, contrary to popular opinion.

Army Favored

Navy has played the tougher schedule, and has done all right with it, to be sure, but Army was handicapped in at least one game by illness, and now reportedly is back in top shape. Moreover, the Cadets played last week while Navy has been idle since November 14.

Coaches say that when a team moves along slowly to a peak, it is likely to slump after a layoff and Navy will have this to combat, not mentioning that Army has a really capable eleven when all hands are present and functioning smoothly.

Swinging down into the south, Louisiana State, a powerhouse apparently headed for the Rose Bowl ever since it bounced back from a tie in its second game, should continue undefeated against Tulane, although a brisk battle would not be surprising. This is another of those things which each side waits for all season.

Bedford Co. Hunters Kill Many Turkeys

Dozen Local Gunners Report Bagging Toothsome Wild Birds This Season

BEDFORD, Pa., Nov. 27.—Wild turkeys are being shot on Summer House mountain at Bedford Springs by local hunters, the largest weighing 12 pounds, having been killed by Ralph Mowery. Others were brought in by George and Clarence Mowery and Samuel and Clarence Price, Bedford Springs, Clarence Smith and Ray Stamer, Bedford.

Fred S. Samuel shot a 14-pound wild turkey near Well's Tannery. Clyde Crissey, Jr., of Mann's Choice, killed a 15-pound turkey. Harry Brown, of Buffalo Mills, shot a turkey weighing 11¾ pounds, and William Peterson, Pittsburgh, killed one weighing 11½ pounds, on Wills Mountain.

Harry and John Oakes, and Vernon Fluke, Hopewell, brought home turkeys, the latter bagging a 15-pound gobbler.

Other lucky turkey hunters were Franklin Miller, Fred Williams, John Dale, James and Maurice Baker, Walter and Norman Kegarise, Donald Karns and Glen Fickes.

Another good way to get exercise is to buy a car. It's such a nice walk from the parking place to where you're going.

Stock Market Turns Higher

Gains In Some Leaders Run To More Than Point, Favorable Domestic News Helps

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—A favorable budget of international and domestic news over the Thanksgiving holiday turned the stock market higher today.

Gains in some leaders ran to a point and more, but volume was restricted.

Pivotal groups led the way, including steels, oils, rail equipments, motors and copper shares.

American Locomotive rose a fraction into new high ground. American Car and Foundry spurted two points and Westinghouse Air Brake about half as much.

Chrysler advanced close to two points before meeting profit-taking. Auburn did nearly as well, while General Motors added a fraction.

Gains in the copper division ran to more than a point in American Smelting. Anaconda and Kennecott each showed substantial improvement.

Rails, aviations, utilities and oils moved moderately higher. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem climbed about a point each.

Bonds ruled generally higher. Grains added small fractions to previous closing levels. Cotton was slightly easier.

HOW DO RANK AND FILE OF ENGLAND REGARD POSSIBLE UNION OF KING AND MRS. SIMPSON?

If the comments of 100 English subjects can be accepted as a true indication of public sentiment toward the possible marriage of King Edward and Mrs. Wally Simpson, 80 per cent of the rank and file of England's population is unopposed to the much-discussed union. Typical remarks made during a miniature poll conducted by David Sentner, International News Service correspondent, in London pubs, buses, shops, offices, cocktail bars, homes and clubs are portrayed above. Even those opposed said the nation would accept the marriage graciously. The middle class views the romance favorably. The upper class is split.

Her Loyalty Opens Pen Gates

The loyalty and love of Dora Millicent Miles, 24, in working as hat-check girl for funds to obtain the release of the man she loves, was rewarded when the courts released George Gilbert, reformed robber and kidnaper, from Norfolk prison. He escaped in 1930, went straight, and was captured in 1934 in California. They are shown in happy reunion at Boston.
